Churchill Declares British Government Has Sent 50,000 Troops to Ulster—Will Continue to Support Northern Government in Efforts to Resist Southern Forces

LONDON, June 26. (By Associated Press.)—Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies, rising to make his promised statement on Irish affairs in the house of commons this afternoon, said the government desired the freest and fullest debate and one that could be terminated by a division.

Mr. Churchill declared he did not hesitate to say that all the horrors that had occurred in Belfast were due to the organization in northern territory army and the continuous efforts by extreme partisans of the south to break down the Ulster government and force

Ulster against her will to come under the rule of Dublin.

The colonial secretary said the imperial government had supplied the northern Irish government with 50,000 troops for its defense. He added that the northern government would be supported effectively and at all costs in any attempt that might be made to coerce it into submission to the south.

He said the situation on the Ulster frontier was easier as a result of the triple arrangement made between the British, the provisional and northern governments whereby a neutral zone four miles wide was to be established in the Pettigo and Belleek districts.

Schooner Spray Arrives at La Have, N. S., With Survivors From Wreck

Only One Member of Crew of Schooner Puritan Was Drowned

LA HAVE, N. S., June 26.—The schooner Spray arrived today with 15 of the 16 missing men of the Gloucester schooner Puritan, which was wrecked off Sable Island, June 23. Only one of the crew, Christopher Johanson, was drowned.

Hope had almost been abandoned for the men by Captain Jeffrey Thomas and four of his crew who were rescued and brought to Halifax. The schooner, which was a prospective contender for the International fishermen's races next fall, was reported a hopeless wreck.

SIX COLLEGE CREWS IN BIG REGATTA

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 26. (By Associated Press.)—Unofficially, rowing and water polo enthusiasts and spectators gathered here for the 26th regatta of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association when they arose this morning. Although the three races forming the annual program were not scheduled for decision until late afternoon, prospects pointed to favorable conditions unless there was a marked change in conditions.

The hundred and twenty odd oarsmen composing freshmen, junior varsity and varsity eight teams from six different universities, waited impatiently for the twilight hour when they would be sent away in quest of national rowing honors. Interest centered chiefly in the outcome of the "Varsity" three mile race. The veteran United States Naval academy eight ruled favorite with Cornell, Washington and Syracuse second choices. Columbia was given an excellent chance by experts if the "Varsity" race, set for 6:30 p. m., should be rowed in rough water, Pennsylvania was hopeful.

YALE-PRINCETON POLO MATCH
NEW YORK, June 26.—The Yale-Princeton polo match which was postponed Saturday because of wet grounds, will be played tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Meadowbrook club, Westbury, L. I. It was announced today.

WITH ATTORNEY

District Court Judge and Lawyer Disagree Over Defendant's Rights

Lowell Man Held in $1000 for Operating Auto While Intoxicated

Liquor Squad Put in Busy Week-End and Bring Many Into Court

A verbal clash between a local attorney and Judge Enright focused the feature of this morning's district court session. With the admission that he would also sentence the attorney, unless he subsided, and the reply of the court that the incident ended the rapid exchange of words served to stir up the atmosphere of the courtroom, and for the space of a minute tension was at the breaking point.

The case which brought forth the verbal clash was one in which Charles Bergeron and Louise Stinson pleaded guilty to a statutory charge. The court fined each offender $75. Then a sister of the woman stepped forward and told the court that Bergeron had enticed the woman away from her husband and two small children. Several other allegations were made during her time on the stand. Upon hearing this story, the court asked the male defendant what he had to say regarding the charges, and he replied that some of them were true and others were not. He did not take the stand in making his answer.

Withdrew Sentence
The court then ordered the clerk to withdraw the $75 sentence and changed it to one of six months to the house of correction. The attorney then stepped forward and pressed the opinion to the court that the woman's testimony should be corroborated before charging the defendant. The court replied that the defendant had pleaded guilty. The attorney answered that he thought his defendant should have a chance to at least deny the allegations made and tell his story.

The attorney then wanted to know if the court was attempting to criticize the sentence. The court replied that he simply wished to criticize the sentence. The attorney then asked the court if he had no right to do so and the attorney answered that he did not. The court then told the attorney that any more talk from him and he would receive a sentence himself. The lawyer withdrew saying, "I am not going to continue, your honor. His honor replied, 'Yes, we are in court.'"

The male defendant appealed the direct sentence and when the attorney stepped forward and asked that the woman be granted time to pay her fine, the court denied the request. John L. Rondau pleaded guilty to charges of being drunk and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor. He was fined $10 until tomorrow, while the facts of the case could be looked into more fully. Rondau was driving an auto at a wedding this morning and smashed up the car quite a bit.

As a result of a concentrated drive on illegal liquor handling made Saturday night and yesterday, by members of the vice and liquor squad, a number of persons were haled into court this morning. In all the raiding squads made 17 visits, and were successful in many instances in getting evidence sufficient for conviction. The visits were not all of the free and easy kind, for in one or two places the officers had to battle with defiance in order to obtain evidence.

Men Were Drunk
Sergeant Winn, Officers Conroy and Moore of the liquor squad, and Federal Officer Bowers made a visit in Market street Saturday night. As they reached a certain address they noticed a number of men coming out of a door. They were all drunk, according to the officers. The raiding squad tried to enter but a man inside refused to let them in. The officers forced their way in.

FUNERAL OF SIR
HENRY WILSON

Entire Three Mile Route Choked With Spectators—Traffic at Standstill

Offices and Shops Closed to Permit Employees to Witness Imposing Spectacle

LONDON, June 26.—(By Associated Press.)—Londoners by the hundreds of thousands left their homes early today to pay tribute to the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson at funeral services held for the late military chieftain, victim of the bullets of assassins. For hours they stood in the rain in which the solemn procession making its way to the sound of muffled drums from the field marshal's late home in Eaton Place, to St. Paul's Cathedral. The entire three mile route was choked with spectators and all traffic was at a complete standstill.

Throughout the city all flags were half-masted and many offices and shops were closed to permit employees to witness the imposing ceremonial. Throughout the empire also the day was one of national mourning, even from far off New Zealand, coming word that minute guns would be fired during the funeral and all flags half-masted.

In northern Ireland, the home of the slain soldier, there were special manifestations of grief and memorial services were held in most of the churches.

Verdict of Willful Murder
LONDON, June 26.—(By Associated Press.)—A verdict of willful murder against James Connolly and James O'Brien was returned this afternoon by the coroner's jury in the inquest into the killing of Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, assassinated last Thursday. The two men accused did not attend today's hearing, on advice of counsel.

Storm in Parliament
LONDON, June 26.—(By the Associated Press.) After the funeral today of Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, the government expected to face in parliament the storm aroused against it by the great soldier's assassination.

The alleged failure of the government to protect Sir Henry and other men in public life is only one of the charges its opponents were to bring against the administration, back of this being the anger of one section of the house toward the Irish policy.

Previous attempts to call the government to order on the latter count failed to produce the effect its enemies wished. The present attack is menacing in that it is combined with a demand for an issue which has deeply stirred the emotions of a great many of the members.

The disorderly conditions in Ireland and the prevalence of crime and violence there which are regarded as being reflected in the Wilson tragedy, are sharply scored in some of this morning's editorials.

ST. PATRICK'S SCHOOL'S ANNUAL OUTING

Never was an outing or a picnic characterized by such zest and enthusiasm as that manifested by the 600 boys and girls of St. Patrick's parochial school at their annual outing in Tyngsboro today.

The children, in five special cars, headed into Lowell at 8:30 this morning with the summer home and grounds of the Sisters of Notre Dame as their destination. From the outset, the party was a continual round of merriment and joy, a fitting climax to a most successful year in the classroom.

The beautiful and picturesque grounds of the former Nunn O'Neill estate, with its spacious and exclusive accommodations, offered a splendid opportunity to these athletically inclined to exercise their talents in their favorite sports. An excellent baseball game was the feature of the morning's activities as the boys were concerned, while a placid pond with boats and fishing facilities constituted the girls' attraction for the girls.

At noon the picnicers partook of well prepared basket lunches with an iced cream desert donated by the sisters. Suffice it to say that the lunch period caused the only lull in the day's busy program, but it served as a breathing spell to the untiring youngsters.

The afternoon sports provided thrills aplenty, both boys and girls competing for supremacy in the various races.

The pupils were ever under the watchful guardianship of the sisters, who saw to it that harm came to no one during their stay.

BARGE BLOWN UP,
WOMAN KILLED

Mrs. Green Dead, Her Two Children Missing, Her Husband and Others Burned

Three Barges and Half of Cottage Colony at Verona Beach Destroyed

Explosion on Powder-Laden Barge Tied Up at Dork at Oneida Lake

ONEIDA, N. Y., June 26.—Mrs. Ella Green is dead, her two children are missing, her husband and several other persons are severely burned, and three barges, a tug and almost half of the cottage colony at Verona beach, north of here, are destroyed by fire as the result of the explosion last night of a powder-laden barge tied at a dock there.

Mrs. Green was drowned when her husband, engineer of the tug, seeing her clothing in flames, pushed her into the canal in an effort to save her life. Although he kept in with her, he was unable to rescue her. Their two children have been missing since the first explosion.

The explosion occurred when a gasoline blimp pump backfired and ignited a case of powder on the dock. The first explosion set fire to the barge and tug, and the series of explosions resulting from the burning cargo showered sparks and bits of burning timber over the cottages along the shore.

The fire destroyed 13 cottages, a store, a hotel and an electric light power house.

The barges were under charter to the Du Pont Powder Co. It is said here, and were being towed to Buffalo. Their cargo had been raised from an other barge sunk in the canal about two weeks ago at New London and was considered to be safe from any first destruction.

Thousands of pleasure seekers at Sylvan beach, an amusement park across the canal from Verona beach, were thrown into a panic by the explosion and several persons were slightly injured.

PELLETIER DENIES ALL ALLEGATIONS

BOSTON, June 26.—Joseph C. Pelletier, former district attorney of Suffolk county, today filed in federal court a denial of all the allegations contained in the petition seeking his disbarment in the United States district court.

The petition, filed by United States District Attorney Robert O. Harris was based on the findings of a justice of the Massachusetts supreme court, disbarring Pelletier. The disbarment in the state court was based on the court's decision in removing Pelletier as district attorney last winter for alleged misconduct in office.

President to Confer With Head of United Mine Workers of America

To Discuss Coal Strike Situation—May Be Prelude to General Conference

WASHINGTON, June 26.—President Harding was expected to confer on the coal strike situation today or tomorrow with John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

The expected conference was regarded by those generally conversant with the strike situation as a possible prelude to a general meeting between the miners' leaders and the operators, under White House auspices.

MRS. LEN SMALL DEAD

Wife of Illinois Governor Stricken During Celebration of Husband's Acquittal

KANKAKEE, Ill., June 26.—Mrs. Len Small, wife of Gov. Small of Illinois, died about 9 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Small was stricken with apoplexy Saturday night during the excellent incident to the celebration of friends and fellow townsmen of the governor as a result of his acquittal that afternoon after trial at Washington. With her at the time of her death was the governor and their three children, Leslie and Budd Small and Mrs. A. E. Ingles.

From the moment of Mrs. Small's collapse, physicians offered an encouraging prognosis. She suffered for some time with high blood pressure and her condition was believed to have been aggravated by the strain of the governor's trial.

Mrs. Small was born Dec. 17, 1861, in Livingston county, Illinois. She was married to Gov. Small in 1892.

BIG INCREASE IN EMPLOYMENT HERE

According to the United States Department of Labor Industrial Review for June, just received at the chamber of commerce, Lowell has made a greater increase in employment than any city in the country other than Memphis, Tenn. The increase amounts to 14.9 per cent, and the total number of employees added in the monthly period is 1488. The bulletin states that the textile situation shows some improvement, but most of the increase was caused by the resumption of the leather industry, resulting from the settlement of a labor difficulty at a local hide and leather plant. The report also states that most of the textile industries are running on a part-time basis, with one manufacturing company in receipt of orders which have put it on practically a full-time schedule.

Entire Police Force Mobilized to Halt March of Striking Miners

FAIRMONT, W. Va., June 26.—The entire Fairmont police force and all of the Marion county deputy sheriffs, were mobilized at 11:30 o'clock today to stop a reported march of striking miners and sympathizers from Monongah, a mining town 10 miles to the south. The authorities said they had been informed an attempt was to be made to liberate 81 prisoners from the county jail. These men were arrested last Friday after a march of strikers.

R. R. Signal Men Take Strike Vote

CHICAGO, June 26.—(By Associated Press.)—A strike vote is being taken by railway signal men on approximately one-third of the railroads of the country, according to an announcement today by D. W. Holt, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Signalmen. The vote is being taken under the supervision of the system general committees, all of which have rejected the wage cut set for July 1.

SUMMIT UNATTAINABLE

Mount Everest Has Again Baffled the Best Efforts of Man

LONDON, June 26.—(By the Associated Press.) Mount Everest has again baffled the best efforts of man. The Calcutta correspondent of the Daily Telegraph today confirms previous reports that Brig. General C. G. Bruce, head of the present expedition, has been forced to the conclusion that persistence in the effort to scale the peak would only result in useless tragedy.

General Bruce was most reluctant to abandon further attempts, but the condition in which the last two climbing parties returned, the advice of his medical officers and the certainty of worse weather conditions daily forced him to a decision, says the writer.

Major H. T. Morshead was the worst sufferer from frost bite. C. L. May, a member of the party, also was badly bitten and several others less severely. The correspondent quotes one of the greatest authorities on Himalayan as saying that Bruce's "glorious failure" has proved conclusively that the summit is almost unattainable.

There are more than 2,000,000 known varieties of insects now living on the earth.

PARIS PAPERS COMMENT ON ASSASSINATION

PARIS, June 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—The comment of the Paris newspapers is generally favorable to the personality of Dr. Walter Rathenau, German minister, and the newspapers declare that the cause of his assassination may be explained by his efforts peacefully to arrange reparations with France.

The German nationalists and monarchists hatred of France is linked with a blind desire for revenge in explaining the crime.

The Figaro says: "The assassination is the result of the Pan-German excitement and is further proof of what the French people have long realized regarding Germany's hatred of France. Rathenau was an obstacle to Germany's immediate revenge. His idea was to repair first the result of defeat. He did not boldly proclaim his intentions as did Stinnes and Ludendorff. France must realize that there are but two decisions in Germany: one for revenge now and one for revenge later."

LOWELL ROTARY CLUB Joseph E. Warner, candidate for lieutenant governor on the republican ticket, will be the speaker before the Lowell Rotary club at its meeting Tuesday noon, at the Lowell Boys' club.

Adventures of The Twins

COMET-LEGS GIVES THEM 48 MOONS IN ONE NIGHT

DOWN ON THE EARTH EVERYBODY WAS LOOKING AT THE MOON WITH LONG GLASSES.

Mr. Peabody, the Man-in-the-Moon, was lost.

Nancy and Nick hunted and hunted. And the Weatherman, Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, hunted and hunted. And the dream-fairies hunted and the Sweep hunted and all the people in the moon-cliffed.

But Mr. Peabody was as missing as Tommy Brown's front teeth.

"I just knew that wicked old Comet-Legs had hidden him some where," declared Nancy.

Just then they came to the house where Mr. Peabody kept his handies for running the moon.

And there was Comet-Legs pulling out handies and putting them back and then pulling them all out at once and shoving them away.

"Ha, ha, ha!" he was roaring. "I'll bet the earth people think I'm a fine Man-in-the-Moon! I'll give 'em a change. I'll give 'em 48 kinds of a moon in one night. I will!"

Of course, my dear, the moon was doing awful things. The Twins and Mr. Sprinkle-Blow could hardly keep their feet with the jerking. And everything was as dizzy as if it had been playing whirling.

The moon-cliffs were falling to pieces, towers tottering and chimneys falling down and houses crumbling. A moon-quake is quite as bad as an earthquake. Even the tops of the mountains were falling off.

Down on the earth everybody was looking at the moon with long glasses.

"Mr. Peabody's gone plumb crazy!" they cried. "Just look at that! We'll have to put him out. One minute he gives us a new moon and the next an old one."

"Now time the moon's dry and the next it's got its corners down which means rain. We don't know whether to go hunting or fishing or what to do. Yes, sir, old Peabody's lost his senses."

EVILS OF COAL BUSINESS

Blame Must Be Laid on

"Common Garden Variety of Blind Selfishness"

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 26.—The blame for most of the evils that burden the coal business and have burdened it for years must be laid on the "common garden variety of blind selfishness," George C. Smith, director of the United States geological survey, said today in an address before the national conference of social work here.

"The sharp buying of coal and disregard of contracts whenever the market favors the buyer, the profiteering by the operator or dealer when business comes, the collective bargaining with the walkout as the club all these bring unnecessary hazards into the business and add useless costs to the product," Mr. Smith said. "The general welfare is tied up with a regular supply of lower cost coal and higher earnings for those who produce it."

Describing conditions under which soft coal miners work, Director Smith said:

"The running time is broken into small pieces, for mine operation is not simply seasonal, it is intermittent. In that theoretical mine of the statistician the average mine of the country, we find November a longer month than June by 25 per cent., June longer than April by 10 per cent., and yet the working time in a normal November is only 15 to 21 days. And irregularly creeps into the working week and the working days for Friday and Saturday."

day are normally shorter days than Monday.

"The average working time by states and fields shows marked and significant differences. The average year in the southern Appalachian region is a fourth longer than in the central competitive district."

"First among methods of mending the broken year is the practical remedy of stabilizing the coal market, and here is the consumer's opportunity to cooperate. You and I need to buy coal at times when we need the coal least. Off-season delivery of coal even to the small consumer whose name is legion, will help materially to make the mine workers' June more like November. The large consumer can do even more to smooth out the irregularities of mine operation by making long term contracts and providing for delivery to suit the mine as well as himself."

"With market demands more regular it will become even more obvious that the over-developed industry must suffer for depletion; fewer mine and fewer miners can and should apply the needed coal. A longer working year for a reduced force is the only possible method of bringing about the lower wage scale and the larger annual earnings, both of which are generally needed."

WRINKLED SILKS Fabrics woven in deep wrinkles seem very popular now, particularly when the fabric is a gold or silver material cloth. For coats this material is most effective.

SAVED FROM DROWNING

Motor Boat Lost in Merrimack—Coast Guards

Saved Two Men in Charge

Coast guard life savers rescued two men from drowning in the wreck of their boat when dashed upon the rocks at mouth of the Merrimack river yesterday morning while the storm raged furiously. The boat had been out some miles from shore and sought refuge in the Merrimack, but at that time the tide was nearly at its height and the wind was sending huge waves over the piled rocks which line the sides of the estuary. The men in charge of the boat had a hard time keeping her from being upset, but in the midst of their struggle the motor stopped, probably because of the water which continually dashed over the sides of the craft. Then the men were at the mercy of the waves. The boat was dashed upon the jetties on the north side of the river. "The Jetties" is the name given a piled wall of boulders projecting into the ocean on either side of the river to prevent the estuary filling up with sand. One man managed to climb from the boat to the rocks, but was in imminent danger of being washed off with every wave that lashed the boulders. Coffagers who saw the signal of distress telephoned the life savers at Plum Island who arrived in time to save the men but the boat could not be saved. It remained above water for half an hour afterwards. Other boats came to the rescue but did not dare approach lest they would meet a similar fate.

The motor boat sank in thirty feet of water and search at low tide after the storm had ceased, failed to show any sign of the wreck. The boat had probably been swept out to sea.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE "Smilin' Through," the noted stage success, opened a four days engagement as a screen production at the Merrimack square theatre, with large audiences in attendance. With Norma Talmadge in the leading dual role and an excellent cast supporting her, the production lives up to all the good things said about it in advance. There is the usual bill of surrounding features and there has been no change in admission prices.

THE STRAND Sessue Hayakawa, the Nipponese star of the screen, will appear in his latest and most stirring melodrama, "The Vermilion Pencil," at The Strand, beginning with matinee today. This super-picture production has a cast of the elements that go in the making of a satisfying offering. "Patsy" Ruth Miller and Cullen Landis in "Watch Your Step" is the other feature on the bill that will help make it a great bill.

KIDNAPPED BY BANDITS

A. Bruce Bielaski Held for Ransom by Seven Bandits in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, June 26.—(By Associated Press)—A. Bruce Bielaski, head of the bureau of investigation of the American department of justice, during the war, is being held for ransom by seven bandits who held up his automobile seven miles west of Cuernavaca, in the state of Morelos, yesterday.

Mr. Bielaski, together with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Barcena of Mexcala, was on the way to view some Aztec ruins near the town, when the bandits suddenly appeared and stopped them at the point of guns. The women were released, but, after robbing them, the bandits took Mr. Bielaski and Mr. Barcena with them.

When the news reached this city, the American chargé d'affaires, George T. Sumner, immediately communicated with the authorities at Cuernavaca, as well as getting in touch with the federal government and Secretary of War. Several hundred federal troops in the vicinity to start after the bandits.

Mr. Bielaski, who is no longer connected with the American government is now vice-president of Richmond Levering & Co., which has extensive oil holdings near Mexico City and Tampico. Mr. Barcena is an attorney connected with racing enterprises at Tijuana.

23RD WEEK OF STRIKE IN RHODE ISLAND

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 26.—The 23rd week of the strike in the Blackstone valley opened quietly today. Although an injunction has been granted against picketing at the mills affected in this city, deputy sheriffs continue to do guard duty and the "flying squad" of police ride in an automobile from mill to mill but they seldom have trouble from strike sympathizers. The deputies say that more workers are steadily reporting at the mills but none of them have more than half the required quota. In Lonsdale, Ashton and Berkeley the mills remain open but the workers continue to keep away.

Thomas R. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers of America, is expected back today from Cincinnati, where he attended the American Federation of Labor convention.

THOUSANDS ATTEND WATER SERVICE AT PAWTUCKET BRIDGE

With several thousand persons in attendance, James A. Garfield, W.R.C. 324 held its water service yesterday afternoon. Services were held in the Pawtucket Congregational church, where the pastor, Rev. Arthur Lyons, read a lesson to the dead. Later came the water service on the bridge, the navy being represented by Arthur P. Moran.

BUSINESS MAINTAINS GAINS DURING WEEK

NEW YORK, June 25 (The Associated Press).—Notwithstanding the uncertainties comprised in the several labor disputes and the impending reductions in railroad freight rates, industry maintained its gains during the past week.

Steel Products Firm

Steel mills continued to operate at nearly 75 per cent of capacity and the prices of steel products remained firm. Buying for prompt shipment was stronger than that for future delivery, but this was considered natural by the trade, since the future course of prices is rendered uncertain by such factors

The patriotic service was in charge of the President, Mrs. Alice Schofield, and officers, and the outdoor exercises were in charge of the patriotic instructor, Mrs. Anna C. Holland. At the church service a brief address was given by Capt. Wm. P. White, U.S.N., retired. Musical numbers were contributed by Miss Amy French, Winifred Guild, Robert Fullerton, Frank Hart-

As the change in railroad rates, the coal strike, the possibility of higher labor costs and the character of the autumn demand for steel. Impressive gains were shown by the latest railroad car loading figures—those for the week ending June 16, although coal shipments, which have been gaining, still amounted to only 45,000 cars, as compared with 205,000 cars in the week before the strike started, the volume of other freight increased sufficiently to bring total loadings up to 144,000 cars. This figure equals that recorded in the week before the strike began, which is, incidentally, the high record for the year.

Experts Cried in Coal

A number of well-posted observers are inclined to the view that a crisis in the soft coal strike is approaching. Stocks are being drawn down and the lower freight rates on July 1 are expected to stimulate demand. In any event, the pressure for added production appeared to be growing, a circumstance which favors the view that the decisive point in the struggle is pending.

Reports from New England said that more of the striking textile workers were returning to the mills. The mills appear, however, to be still operating at a comparatively low rate.

Opinions as to the likelihood of a railroad strike continue to be divided. The roads still profess to regard such an event as unlikely, and it is pointed out that there has been some showiness in the bidding. Union officials insist, however, that the vote will favor a walkout and that one will be ordered. Nothing definite has developed to indicate whether the train service employees would declare a sympathetic strike if the staff employees squad from the Sons of Veterans fired a volley over the water. The one who was made up of Benjamin P. Parsley, Frank Ham, Adelbert Ames, Clarence Sanger, Loren E. Smith, Wilson Hall and Charles Sanger. Following the sounding of "Taps" by Louis Monroe, the entire assembly joined in the singing of "America, the Beautiful," and there was benediction by Rev. Arthur Lyons.

who are concerned in the present series of wage cuts, should go out. Crop prospects remained somewhat uncertain, but a good yield of wheat and a subnormal cotton crop are still probabilities. Some claims of winter wheat deterioration on account of hot dry weather in the Northwest have been made, and prices have rallied about 5 cents above the recent low, but the greater firmness is attributed to the technical position of the market rather than to any material change in crop prospects.

Parasitic weather in the South led to higher cotton prices early in the week. After the weather cleared, however, the fresh advance was cancelled.

Reduction of the rediscount rate of the federal reserve bank at New York to a 4 per cent basis offered fresh support for the view that no early hardening in money rates is likely. Rates for the various forms of credit are now at their low point of the year. With reserves at a high level, with the demand for accommodation slight, and with a moderate trade revival rather than a boom in prospect, the reserve bank authorities evidently anticipate no real strain on credit facilities during the next few months.

BANKS ROBBED OF $100,000

Man Held at Attleboro Said to Have Made Cleanup by Forged Checks

ATTLEBORO, June 26.—How a young man with a penchant for high finance evolved a clever scheme to get rich in a hurry and how he victimized a score of the most conservative banks in the state in the sum of $100,000 was related here yesterday by representatives of the William J. Burns detective agency, following the arrest Saturday night of William T. Sheehan, after an automobile chase of a mile.

An attempt to evade the watchful eyes of the police in keeping a clandestine retreat with a pretty wife proved his undoing. Although it was a desire to see his wife and two children that led to Sheehan's capture, it was his insatiable greed that proved the Waterloo of the embryo Wallingford.

Not content with cleaning up $100,000 in the short space of a year Sheehan, once a forerunner in a jewelry factory and later a real estate dealer, worked his game under the very noses of some of the best detectives in the nation and with a boldness that brought success in the face of warning circulars received in the same banks he is alleged to have victimized.

According to John A. Packard, New England manager for the Burns agency, William T. Klerman of Hites, N. Y., an accomplice of Sheehan, was arrested in Buffalo three weeks ago.

Sheehan is more than six feet in height and weighs 250 pounds. He is a model of sartorial splendor in his cell here yesterday he protested his innocence and waived extradition to go back to Rochester, where the bench warrant for his arrest was issued. His wife visited him through the day and admiring friends brought him newspapers and cigars while he made himself comfortable.

Wanted in Boston

Inspectors from Cambridge and Boston, where banks have been victimized, sought to obtain temporary custody of Sheehan yesterday. He was identified for several local residents by the police. Sheehan insisted upon turning the man over to the Rochester police under the alias of Edward H. Shaw. Inspector Michael Neelan of the Cambridge police and Inspector Francis P. Haggerty of the Boston police returned empty-handed.

According to the detectives Sheehan left a trail of forged certified checks from Boston to Georgia. His practice, it is alleged, was to visit a city and open an account with a bank. He would then draw a check and have it certified, making it negotiable as ready cash. After the check had been cashed, he would either raise the amount or write a new check and forge the certification stamp and signatures of the bank officials.

Judge Clashes With Attorney

In and found a still in operation. A man and woman were inside and the woman was engaged in dismantling the still. She pulled the still apart and threw one part of it out a window. The man jumped out a window and made his way over the roof to another tenement where he was cornered and arrested. The woman put up quite a battle and succeeded in striking both Sgt. Winn and Officer Hovens. In connection with this raid William Wyckoff pleaded not guilty to the charge of illegal keeping. His case was continued to July 6.

On visiting a place in Adams street

the same party ran into another warm reception. Winn and Hovens went into a store on the ground floor and found a pint of alleged moonshine and the glasses from which it is alleged, it was served. Officers Moore and Cooney went to the tenement upstairs. Here they encountered two women. Everything was going along smoothly until Officer Cooney jumped out a window, onto a roof, and found a gallon jug of alleged "shine." Then the fun began.

One of the women jumped at Officer Moore, while the other, engaged Officer Cooney in battle as he came back through the window with his pistol. Cooney was searching for more evidence when his work was rudely interrupted as he was struck in the leg by an iron bar wielded by the woman. The second blow struck the officer on the back and when the third blow was aimed at Officer Cooney, he fled in a panic. The woman wasn't fooling in the least bit. In attempting to dodge the blow Cooney put the jug within range of the iron bar and a dull sickening (to the officer) thud followed in which the jug was broken and its contents spilled all over the floor.

As a result of this party George Mansour appeared in court this morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal keeping. His case was continued to July 6 upon a request of the government.

Had Another Yinnch

Believing there was more contraband to be found in this neighborhood the officers made a visit farther up the street. As they approached their objective, a woman on watch cried "The cops!" The squad rushed the house and arrived inside in time to see the supposed proprietor smashing bottles. There were three rooms in the rear of the place and in them were found 22 men drinking and in other ways enjoying themselves. Some of the men attempted to break their bottles and glasses, while others drank their drink with the words that they had paid for the liquor and weren't going to allow the raiders to cheat them out of it. No arrest was made but it is expected the proprietor will be brought in sometime during the day.

From Adams St. the party journeyed on to Salem street. Surrounding a near-by saloon somewhat different tactics were decided upon. After watching the place for a while members of the squad saw the alleged proprietor call to a man in the front door of the place. The officers alleged the man responded to the call by taking out a bottle from his pocket and pouring one of the regular customers a drink.

The officers then made their entrance and rounded up both the proprietor and his alleged assistant. The assistant admitted, according to the officers, that he was being paid $2 per day for acting as storehouse to the proprietor. He said that customers were charged 25 cents for a drink out of the bottle.

Fined $100

As an aftermath to this affair Ernest Ponnault appeared in court this morning, pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and paid a fine of $100.

After a short rest from their Saturday night visit, the officers met at the station yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. Sgt. Winn, Officers Moore and Cooney and Patrolman J. H. Murphy made a Tilden street house call. Fourteen men were arrested and all pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods. Each paid a fine of $5. The day's work ended with a visit to a place conducted by Manuel C. Bettemund. Here the officers alleged they found a number of men drinking to their hearts' content. He had a pint of moonshine and several small glasses which were confiscated. In court this morning Manuel pleaded guilty to an illegal sale and was fined $100.

George F. Maguire pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was sentenced to the house of correction for three months. It was brought out that he already owes the court $10 as part of a fine previously assessed.

$40,000 For a New Bridge

ization of $100,000 to be borrowed as temporary money in anticipation of revenue, the city will be able to function properly until tax money begins to come in next October. Of the original authorization of $2,000,000, there remains $200,000 that has not yet been borrowed.

Packard Investigation Dropped

As far as can be ascertained, any investigation that was to have been made by the city council of the purchase of a Packard touring car for its departmental use, has been snuffed out by an extinguishing process of some sort or other.

It was at last Thursday night's meeting of the city council that the mayor was supposed to present a reply to a previous oral introduction by Councilman John J. McFadden, wherein it was asked to what appropriation or account the purchase price of the machine had been charged. No such reply was received, however, and although Purchasing Agent Foye was at city hall in response to a summons, he left before the council convened, when he was informed that he needn't wait.

Nomination Expired Today

The mayor's nomination of Mrs. Sarah R. Kittredge for the position of assistant superintendent of state aid, automatically became void today with the expiration of the 30-day period since it was presented to the city council.

The nomination would have been of no effect, however, inasmuch as it could not have been acted upon in face of the opinion given by the attorney general which substantiated the ruling of the civil service commission. That Mrs. Mary E. McFadden, the present incumbent, properly has been classified as under civil service laws and regulations.

For Sale of Fireworks

More permits for the storage and sale of fireworks have been issued by the chief of the fire department this year than ever before. To date Chief Saunders has signed 203 such permits, each of which adds 50 cents to the general treasury fund. Last year 201 permits were issued, while in 1920, 1919 and 1918 there were respectively 170, 139 and 102 permits given.

For H. S. Graduation

City carpenters today were erecting seats on the stage at B. F. Keith's theatre for use by the high school graduating class on Wednesday evening. It is thought that the stage will accommodate 200, while pupils who are not able to find room there will occupy upper and lower boxes.

Will Take Bar Exams

Two city attorneys, who have taken up the study of law in connection with their municipal connections, will take the Massachusetts bar examinations on Saturday of this week. They are

James H. Riley, chairman of the school committee and Miss Lilla S. Cutler, police department stenographer.

New Inspector Qualifies
Charles L. Gallagher qualified as superintendent of wires today before City Clerk Stephen Myron. The oath of office was administered to the new official at 11 o'clock and at once he assumed the duties of the office.

Meetings This Week

The final meeting of the school committee before next fall will be held on Thursday evening of this week, at 7:30 o'clock.

The board of public service will meet Thursday of this week, at 4 p.m.

More Papers Filed

Additional nomination papers for governor, chairman of the board of selectmen and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge were filed today for certification with the board of election commissioners.

Degree of Bachelor of Commencement Science was awarded to James H. Kelleher, Allan R. Kirkland and Arthur K. Wilson, three Lowell men, at the commencement exercises of Northeastern university in the Boston Opera House last Wednesday evening, when the largest class in the history of the university received degrees in the presence of an audience which filled the entire auditorium.

Miss Rose I. Brown is home for the summer vacation, after teaching school for the past year in Dorchester. She will spend a few weeks in Old Orchard, Mass., then return to her playground duties here. Miss Brown is a graduate of Lowell high school, Lowell, Mass., 1921, and has been appointed a special assistant by Boston school committee.

Frank P. McCallin has purchased the Walter H. McDaniels estate at 137 East Merrimack street, from Ruthenford M. McCallin.

A Son, John Robert, was born yesterday

to Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Dawson at Forest Hills hospital, Boston. Mrs. Dawson was Miss Rose Rogers of Ludlum street.

A farewell reception was tendered to Mrs. John Brady, Friday night, at her home at 70 Lacroix street. By a number of her friends who wished her bon voyage on her trip to Europe. Mrs. Brady sailed out of New York Saturday, on the steamer Columbia, and will remain abroad until the latter part of September.

Philip T. Molloy, son of Superintendent of Schools Hugh J. Molloy, and a freshman at Boston college, has won an award of $25 in gold for the presentation of the best essay on the subject, "The Influence of Sir Walter Scott on English Novel Writing." The contest was open to members of all four classes in the college and the award was announced in connection with the commencement week exercises.

The Nurses' Alumnae association of St. John's hospital held a quarterly meeting at the hospital Saturday afternoon that included a business session and luncheon. The association president, Miss Helen Fitzpatrick presided over the business meeting. The luncheon was served by the Misses Catherine Sullivan, Alice Gorman, Margaret Craig, Katherine Pierce and Mary Woodhead. An informal program of music also was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hamel, the latter formerly Miss Cecile Latour, who were married at St. Louis' church June 14, were tendered a reception at the home of the groom's father, Mr. Noel Hamel, 57 Dracut street, last evening. On the occasion of their return from their honeymoon trip. Numerous relatives and friends of the young couple called to extend their congratulations and best wishes and all spent a most enjoyable evening. Entertainment numbers were given and a buffet luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Hamel will make their home at 67 Dracut street.

CANTALOUPE ROTTEN ON GROUND

BRAVLEY, Cal., June 25.—About eight million cantaloupes rotted on the ground in this vicinity yesterday, the growers having decided to cease picking and take the resulting loss in the hope that as a consequence overstocking of eastern markets would be eliminated and they could get a price for their products that would afford them a profit.

Annual Graduation Exercises of St. Peter's Parochial School

The third graduation exercises of St. Peter's parochial school were held yesterday afternoon in St. Peter's church, which was filled to capacity for the occasion by relatives and friends of the 67 graduates. The altar and sanctuary were beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants forming an excellent background for the impressive services.

The exercises opened with the singing of the "Veni Creator" by St. Peter's choir, augmented for the occasion by the voices of 400 children of the parish school, and concluded with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Rev. D. J. Heffernan delivered an eloquent and comprehensive sermon based on the text, "Speak ye first the Kingdom of God and His Justice, and all things else shall be added unto you." After explaining that the words of the text were not of man's making but are a part of the Sermon on the Mount, given by our Lord Himself, and therefore eternally true, he continued saying in part, "Religion, the union and the binding man to God, is the most sublime, the most beautiful and the most satisfying thing man can know. On the other hand, knowledge, is the most powerful and influential force in the world. It builds empires, supports governments and decides the destinies of men. Religion plus knowledge moves the world; they must go hand in hand all through the ages. Both should be practised together, for if not, divorce, ruin and misery result."

In the first days of the church twelve poor and unlettered fishermen were sent forth by the Master to teach all nations, and because they heeded the injunction, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His Justice," they went forth and subdued haughty Rome, with its grandeur, its Caesars and Augustus' and mighty, intellectual Greece, triumphantly placing the Church of Peter on the very ruins of these once magnificent empires.

"The church of Christ knows man has a soul as well as a body and therefore Christian education is a necessity—an absolute necessity. It has come down through the years with the Catholic church which insistently teaches that religion and knowledge cannot be divorced with impunity."

In concluding, the speaker exhorted the graduates to remember the lessons taught in the parish school and to go out into the world unafraid, because the prayers of the sisters and priests were with them. He further exhorted the usefulness of the good sisters and the sacrifices of the parents who had borne a double taxation that the child might be given the benefit of such a training and be a credit to civilization and the nation.

Rev. D. J. Keleher, Ph. D., then addressed the graduates and congratulated them on the successful completion of their course at St. Peter's, reminding them of the debt of gratitude they owed the priests, sisters and parents, and to continue in their chosen vocations with the same zeal and honesty of purpose that they exhibited during their eight years of study under the direction of the Sisters of Charity.

The presentation of diplomas then took place, the graduates marching to the altar where they were arranged in the shape of a heart.

Marcouiller-Bienet

The marriage of Mr. Felix E. J. Marcouiller and Miss Marie Rose Rondeau took place yesterday afternoon at St. Joseph's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Jos. A. Hoiduc, O. M. I. The witnesses were Messrs. Pierre Marcouiller and Telesphore Bienet, fathers of the groom and bride respectively. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom, 139 Salem street.

Tremblay-Daigle

At a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock this morning in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory Mr. Joseph H. Tremblay and Miss Onésime Eva Daigle were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Augustin Gratton, O. M. I. The groom was attended by Mr. Edmond Tremblay, while the bride's witness was Mr. Louis Eveed. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 13 East Merrimack street. After an extended honeymoon trip the men.

couple will make their home in this city.

Boutin-Lemay

A pretty wedding took place this morning at St. Louis' church, when Mr. Alfred Boutin and Miss Alexandra Lemay were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Labossiere. The bride wore a navy blue traveling suit with hat to match and carried bridal roses. She was attended by her brother, Mr. Alfred Lemay, while the groom's witness was his uncle, Mr. Abraham Boutin. During the mass hymns were sung by the Children of Mary sodality choir with Miss Ida Mongrain presiding at the organ. At the close of the ceremony the bride's party repaired to the home of the bride, 265 West Sixth street, where a wedding breakfast was served, followed by a reception. In attendance were numerous guests from out of town, including Mr. Charles Boutin, father of the groom; his daughter, Zenaida and his son, Philippe; all of St. Sebastian, Que., who came over the road in their automobile. Mr. and Mrs. Boutin, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left at noon on a two weeks' honeymoon trip through New England and upon their return they will make their home at 12 Gersham avenue.

Statistics show that married men are six times as trustworthy as sin.

LONG HAND VS. SHORTHAND

Much attention has recently been drawn to the testimony of a reporter of the New Bedford Standard named Wilson relative to his ability to report testimony in court accurately without the aid of shorthand.

His report, in the form of questions and answers, was brought forward and the district attorney heckled him on the supposed impossibility of reporting such evidence without using shorthand.

Here are a few of the questions and answers in which the reporter sustained his asserted ability to report court testimony accurately:

"Mr. Wilson, do you, under oath, swear before this jury that you can accurately report any trial writing the questions and answers down in long hand?"

"Why, don't you know that it is impossible? Isn't it superhuman for any reporter to put down every word of a long trial in long hand?"

"I didn't say I got every word."

"Well, do you mean to say that you can be a factor in long hand that anybody else can in shorthand?"

"I haven't said so. I said I could report the trial accurately."

"Mr. Kenney, and I can."

"Without a mistake?"

"Without a mistake."

"Will you swear, for instance, that when you said 'I am backed up to get the liquor,' quoting a witness, that the witness said 'team' and not 'automobile'?"

"I most certainly will. I reported what he said."

"And that these questions and answers are what was said?"

"If they're in quotes, that's what was said."

In that case the district attorney did not realize that a fast long hand writer is more reliable than a poor stenographer. It is true, that when a fast speaker is to be reported, the long hand reporter may have to depend upon his memory to fill some gaps, but in such cases his memory is usually equal to the task, whereas the stenographer depends upon his notes.

The stenographer who cannot read his own notes is the most inaccurate of all reporters. There is an actual plague of such shorthand writers in this and other cities at the present time. They are young people who learned a smattering of shorthand at the high school, but never followed it far enough to make any practical use of it. Nevertheless, they think they can write shorthand. The time spent upon it was thrown away. A large proportion of them, even if they did master the art, would find it useless because of their superficial knowledge of English. Stenography is very generally dispensed with nowadays as many typists are able to write as fast as the average person wants to dictate and the phonograph comes in for a large proportion of them, even if they did master the art, would find it useless because of their superficial knowledge of English. Stenography is very generally dispensed with nowadays as many typists are able to write as fast as the average person wants to dictate and the phonograph comes in for a large proportion of them, even if they did master the art, would find it useless because of their superficial knowledge of English. ## SOUTHERN PRESS-AGENTING

Fairly glowing accounts of "the ideal life" in southern textile centers are reaching northern mill districts in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire. Press agents appear to be at work for some southern municipalities, bent upon reaching after New England manufacturing plants. The prolonged strike in the textile mills of New England have aroused business promoters in the land below the Mason and Dixon line, for since the labor troubles started up this way, mill owners in all sections of New England are reported to have been fairly inundated with letters from southern boards of trade, chambers of commerce and other commercial organizations.

Most of the circular letters and booklets set forth in broad and glowing terms the alleged "advantages" of the cotton belt region over New England for manufacturing plant locations, and, in some instances, making tempting specific proposals.

Possibly our southern friends, who are so anxious to increase the prosperity of the southland, are forgetting the marvelous water power of New England and the superiority of our textile operatives.

Do they realize what it would mean if our mills deserted these natural sources of power for the power obtained solely from coal?

Do the southern press agents, leaning upon northern capital to move speedily down that way, believe that the great textile industry of New England are likely to abandon their present locations here for the allurements of the south? Some of our local mills have had branches in the south for the last ten years; but these have made no progress that would indicate any superiority of location over the northern mills.

FOR YOUNG AMERICA

Last summer more than 25,000 Boy Scouts attended camp for a week or more at the 42 council camps through New England. Twenty-two of these camps are located in Massachusetts. In addition to all that the movement has already accomplished, to make many boys out of the laggards and the apathetic, the Boy Scout leaders are now planning to establish during the coming summer a record of achievement unsurpassed in this commendable activity.

Scouts in the vicinity of Lowell are blessed with available camps capable of serving all needs, with lakes, rivers, groves and open fields. But of course the great body of summer scout work is not found in camps solely, but in the practice of operating camps where young America can enjoy a vacation.

with swimming, biking, sleeping in the open and at the same time acquire those real qualities of independence, resourcefulness and ingenuity often lacking in the average boy. The scout movement is well organized, well managed as a rule, and "camping out" is something that many boys take to with vigorous enthusiasm.

The real success of a scout camp, of course, lies in its leadership and supervision, and it is to be presumed that this has already been carefully attended to. Under proper supervision this summer camp system of training young America is usually a very profitable period for youngsters enabled to spend a week or two "in the open."

CHINESE WAGES

Chung meng fut gull, which is Chinese for "good luck." Unskilled laborers in China are rejoicing because their wages have risen to an average of 15 cents a day, figured in American money.

Chinese carpenters and bricklayers, sharing the general wage advance in the Orient, are "pulling down" 25 to 40 cents a day. Painters wield their brushes for a daily compensation of 25 to 30 cents. Mechanics average 75 cents to $1 a day.

These fabulous incomes are for a work-day averaging from 9 to 10 hours.

Mill foreman and stenographers in China are on the same footing financially, making from $20 to $50 a month.

You, like every other American, at some time or other have said: "In China, you can live for a few cents a day."

This saying usually is accepted without challenge, like most of the knowledge that is taken for granted as it is passed from one person to another, after the fashion of group examination of a curiously fashioned trinket found in the streets.

In a general way, it is true that a few cents a day will sustain life in China. But it takes a lot more than it used to. Cost of living has gone up over there, same as everywhere else.

That takes the gold-plate off the Chinese wage advance.

Another factor that the Chinese workman has to reckon with is intermittent employment, due to an excess of man-power. We have a similar problem in coal, textile and other industries. But not as much as in China, where there are so many people that the birth of a girl baby generally causes sorrow, in contemplation of the population she will add during her lifetime.

Matters like Chinese wages seem far-away, with no direct connection to our jobs in America. Far be it from such brethren.

The menace of cheap Oriental labor was realized years ago when congress passed the Chinese exclusion act. Let Chinese laborers enter America in big numbers and they would undermine American laborers—and get rich at it living frugally under a standard of living far below ours.

In years to come, cheap Oriental labor will work long-distance a similar way. Tariffs may keep out their cheap products, but their competition will be felt when the products of American factories seek foreign markets in countries also sought by China.—N.E.A.

AN INTERESTING CASE

Fire department members in every New England city, including Lowell, are sure to follow the so-called Dolbow case, recently heard in the Boston municipal court, where a fireman was found guilty of negligently operating his truck while returning from a fire and was held liable for damages to the vehicle of another person. Judge Parmenter found that the driver of engine 25, Boston fire department, was personally liable and damages of $185 were assessed. An appeal, it is said, will be taken to the superior court, because of the far-reaching effect it will have.

Inasmuch as the fire department is not operated by the city of Boston for gain, but for the general benefit of the citizens, no action could be brought to hold the city liable in damages, so the action was brought against the engine driver. An attempt to have the case dismissed on the ground that the driver was a public servant and acting in the interest of the citizens of Boston, failed.

The attorney for the plaintiff argued that a driver of a fire engine does not have the same right to operate his machine at a rapid rate of speed in returning from a fire as is given him when going to a fire. Judge Parmenter found liability and damages were assessed as above.

The question of liability in such cases has been a much mooted one for many years, with the public generally sympathizing with the firemen in case of accidents or collisions on the public highways.

Again for the "nth" time the Acton powder mills have been blown up by lightning. Have the old-time lightning rods lost their once boasted power to turn the bolts aside and send them harmlessly into the ground?

It is sincerely hoped that the Lawrence strike will soon be settled in the interest of all concerned. Arbitration offers the best method of reaching a just settlement.

Despite all obstacles, business is improving and the era of normalcy will soon have arrived.

Still the tariff bill is debated in the senate but with little hope of changing its objectionable features. The nation needs, perhaps, more than any other single thing, some agency to promote industrial peace.

SEEN AND HEARD

Some people's troubles are so scarce they haven't anything to talk about.

First adding machine was made in 1642; but the banks are using subtracting machines now.

Statistics show the average woman marries at 25; but nine-tenths of them are below this average.

Wonder if the 31 Princeton graduates who say they have never kissed a girl will lie about other things.

Wonder why so many Lowell people went to that firemen's convention in Lawrence.

A Thought

Providence has a wild, rough, incalculable road to its end; and it is no use to try to whitewash its huge, mixed instrumentalities, to dress up that terrific benefactor in a clean shirt and white necktie of a student in divinity.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

The Wrong Way

"You are an hour late this morning, Sam," said an employer to his negro servant. "Yes, sah, I was kicked by a mule on my way, sah." "That ought not to have detained you an hour, Sam." "Well, you see, boss, it wouldn't, if he'd only kicked me in this direction, but he kicked me the other way."

Good Suggestion

The proprietor of the second-hand shop was not so tidy as he might have been. One day while standing in front of the shop, a man approached him and said, "Have you any clean shirts in your shop?" "Yes, certainly I have," answered the clothing man, anxious for a sale. "Lots of them, as clean as anything," "Well," said the man, moving away, "go in and put one of them on."

Today's Word

Today's word is hypothesis. It's pronounced hi-poth-e-sis, with accent on the second syllable. It means—something not proved, but conceived for the sake of argument; a supposition, or an idea adopted to account for certain other wise unexplained facts, and to serve as a guide for further investigation. It comes from a Greek root meaning "foundation" or "supposition," a combination of two words signifying "under" and "to put." It is used like this—"The suggestion that Marx is inhabited is regarded by many scientists as a rather interesting hypothesis, but few are yet prepared to accept it even in theory" (a "theory" which has received some verification.)

Counted Thirty-two

A successful banker, having retired, thought he'd get up a thoroughbred stable. As he had no knowledge of horsemanship, he decided he would take a little expert advice. He knew a lively stable keeper, and he went to see the man. "Thompson," he said, "I am going to buy a stable of horses. Now, being to buy a stable of horses, how will I tell how old they are? I don't want to buy a lot of antiquated nags, you know." The lively man said it was by their teeth that horses' ages were told. "I'll include the Lagrange stable station to be held for further action by the federal authorities."

While it was denied last night at the station house that any of the circumstances regarding the raids and arrests were known to the officers on duty there, it is reported that in the series of raids a large quantity of narcotic drugs were seized.

Dr. Irwin Ruth, head of the government narcotic agents in this city, is said to have headed the squad and took charge of the proceedings.

On his orders, the police claim, the prisoners were allowed to go on bail of $100 each for their appearance in the federal court this morning. "The police say no charge was lodged against any of the 12 on the books of the station house."

The man arrested said they were June Quoy, 34, of 11 Oxford place; Wong Mun, 35, of Manchester, N. H.; Yee Kim, 34, of 14 Tyler street; F. May, 48, of Worcester; Ahn Roy, 25, of 19 Tyler street; Chin Fong, 34, of 62½ Kneeland street; Charlie Gao, 42, of 8 Oxford place; Joe Seo, 19, of 8 Oxford place; Jim Lee, 27, of 8 Oxford place; Charlie Lee, 45, of 16 Tyler street; Leo Y. Kong, 55, and Leo Kim, 42, both of Beach street.

It is claimed that some of the places raided have been under surveillance by the police for some time and that the descent of the federal and police authorities Sunday morning, with the resulting cleanup, was the outcome of carefully laid plans.

RUM FLEET CAPTURED

Three Boats, 13 Men and

20,000 Bottles of Whiskey

Seized at New York.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Twenty thousand bottles of whiskey were seized by customs officers who captured three speeding motorboats which attempted to run their rum cargoes up the East river before dawn yesterday, under cover of a furious squall that threatened their destruction with every burst of wind. Thirteen men aboard the little craft were arrested.

The vessels are fishermen and came here from Boston, the "homemade" of the fleet admitting the federal officers said, that they had taken aboard their liquor cargoes from a 76-foot rum runner that was at anchor several miles off Sandy Hook. The boats are the sloops Peter Metzger and Stella and the gulet, the Peter Metzger.

Deputy Port Surveyor William Sanders and a crew of nine aboard a department launch "spotted" the fleet in the vivid glare of a lightning flash in the Narrows. While the three seemed innocuous enough as fishing boats, the federal officers, taking notice for several days of the fleet, at a distance hidden by the fury of the storm. When the fishing craft failed to put in at the Fulton street fish market wharf, the officers' suspicions were aroused, full speed ahead was rung and their launch overtook the flotilla.

The "flagship," the C-255, and quartered Alfred Anderson of Boston, who, they say, admitted he was in command of the fleet. Unfurnished with his answers, the officers went into the hold and dunnage to have found it filled with whiskey. One of the other two vessels revealed similar cargoes, they alleged, declaring they found 20,000 bottles of the contraband in all.

The prisoners gave their names as Joseph Parantino, Nicola Ruggieri, Joseph Frank, Peter Sarachi, John Costa and John Elias, all of Boston. Joseph Ventura and Joseph Bassanti, Lawrence, Mass.; George Murray of Brooklyn and Thomas Murphy and Joseph Coffey of New York.

United States Commissioner Hitchcock later fixed Anderson's bail at $10,000 and that of Murphy, captain of the Metzger at $3000. Bail for the others was set at $1000. All were bailed by a surety concern for appearance in court today.

BIG NARCOTIC RAID MADE IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 26.—As a result of raids in the Chinatown district early yesterday morning, participated in by members of Captain Reardon's narcotics squad and federal agents, 12 Chinese were arrested and booked at the Lagrange station to be held for further action by the federal authorities.

While it was denied last night at the station house that any of the circumstances regarding the raids and arrests were known to the officers on duty there, it is reported that in the series of raids a large quantity of narcotic drugs were seized.

Dr. Irwin Ruth, head of the government narcotic agents in this city, is said to have headed the squad and took charge of the proceedings.

On his orders, the police claim, the prisoners were allowed to go on bail of $100 each for their appearance in the federal court this morning. "The police say no charge was lodged against any of the 12 on the books of the station house."

The man arrested said they were June Quoy, 34, of 11 Oxford place; Wong Mun, 35, of Manchester, N. H.; Yee Kim, 34, of 14 Tyler street; F. May, 48, of Worcester; Ahn Roy, 25, of 19 Tyler street; Chin Fong, 34, of 62½ Kneeland street; Charlie Gao, 42, of 8 Oxford place; Joe Seo, 19, of 8 Oxford place; Jim Lee, 27, of 8 Oxford place; Charlie Lee, 45, of 16 Tyler street; Leo Y. Kong, 55, and Leo Kim, 42, both of Beach street.

It is claimed that some of the places raided have been under surveillance by the police for some time and that the descent of the federal and police authorities Sunday morning, with the resulting cleanup, was the outcome of carefully laid plans.

TERENCE MACSWINEY COUNCIL

Terence MacSwiney council, A.A.R., met last evening for the evening, and elected permanent officers, as follows: President, M. J. Sharkey; vice-president, Michael Mitchell; secretary, William J. Keane; treasurer, P. W. Moran. Ways and means of enlarging the council were discussed during the meeting, leading to the appointment of a steering committee of seven to assist the president in his work.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem THE OPTIMIST

I hate to leave a party
When the fun is gay and hearty,
Though it's time for me to blow,
For I love to get full measure
Of enjoyment and of pleasure
And I cannot bear to go;
And I might find out, thereafter,
That I'd missed a lot of laughter
As the later moments passed,
So I never take such chances
With the dinners or the dances
But I stay until the last!

When a party seems a flivver
And its bleakness makes me shiver,
Still I somehow hate to quit;
Though in deepest gloom I'm groping,
None the less I keep on hoping
That things may chuck up a bit;
Though the party is a glum thing,
Someone might perhaps start something
Which would make the evening gay—
I'd be mighty sore, dog-gone it
If I hadn't been in on it
So of course I always stay!

LOWELL MILL

TEAM WINS

The Massachusetts mill baseball team defeated the Arlington mill team in Lawrence Saturday by a score of 12 to 6. Peterson, who pitched for the local aggregation, was in fine form, retiring 11 of the down river boys on strikes. The Arlington team is third in the Lawrence Twilight league standing and is the only team to defeat the K. of C. team this season.

The shares of the Pan-American Petroleum company, which controls Mexican Petroleum, also added substantially to their recent gains. The "A" issue rose four points soon after the opening with a gain of three points for the "B" shares.

Other popular stocks opened the week with moderate advances, but interest in the general list was overshadowed by the remarkable performance of the Mexican group.

How to Play Baseball

Batters Often Tip You on What They Intend to Do, Says Gardner

LARRY GARDNER

By LARRY GARDNER

Veteran Star of the Cleveland Indians. In playing third base there are many points which the major leaguer considers most important, yet they mean little or nothing to the amateur.

It is not well to try to absorb in one dose all there is to know about a position on the infield.

It is much better to learn the elementary essentials and to grasp the inside stuff on the player advances in his profession. My knowledge of playing third base has been acquired through observation and advice scattered over years of service.

I consider a study of the position of utmost importance. It will enable the third baseman, in a great many cases, to determine whether the batsman intends to bunt or hit.

Glves Self Away

This cannot be done with all batters. But in a great many cases the batter has some peculiar movement or motion with which he gives away his intentions.

Another important thing is to learn as soon as possible the field to which a batter is most likely to hit.

SHORT SHIP HORSES AT CHERRY PARK

This week will see the New England half-mile track horses in full cry at charming little Cherry park, between the hills, a dozen miles west of Hartford, where four days of excellent sport is promised.

The trotters and pacers which raced at Needford and Woonsuccotet are to mix it up with horses from the large stables of Will Crozier, State Post, Herman Tyson, Aubrey Rodney, Fred Hyde and Billy Lease. This means helps greatly in a third baseman's ability to cover ground.

The fact that a third baseman knows what each pitched ball is going to do, he also aids him in covering more ground.

An infielder should be ready at all times to help a teammate on plays by concealing him. In fact, the more each infielder helps the other, the better the team play and organization is built up.

Go After 'Em

I consider it of great importance for a third baseman to try for every ball hit in his territory, regardless of whether he makes an error or not.

Show me a player who makes plenty of errors and I will show you a player who is always giving his best efforts—which in the long run will get results.

Last, but not least, I feel that every infielder should work to perfect his throw to first base. Hard work and constant practice will accomplish wonders in this respect.

A player cannot get too much practice. In baseball like everything else it makes perfect.

larger fields and keener competition to delight the public.

Cherry park has from its first day in the Short Ship chain had splendid racing, but has not drawn large crowds because of its location away from steam and trolley lines. Motor car owners are learning the way out from Hartford, and, with the fine entry, a satisfactory gate is looked for this week.

Of the Combination winners which started at Woonsuccotet, seven of them did not repeat, and there is much interest as to how the Rhode Island summary tappers and Iskander, Idaho, a satisfactory gate is looked for this week.

Andromeda, athletic leader of the Greek-American Athletic club, established a new record in the discus throw, hurling the disc 128 feet 10 inches. The previous record, held by himself, was 120 feet. "Ted" Apostolides, a representative of the same club, also surpassed his previous record, throwing the missile 122 feet, 10 inches.

Pole Vault Champion

Brook Darling, former Lowell High school marvel and present holder of the New England inter-collegiate pole vault championship, won the pole vault and high jump hurdles, and ran a close second in the hurdles. A very small fraction of an inch proclaimed Flynn the winner in this race, however, as Darling had to be content with second place. At the conclusion of the high jump, which was won at the comparatively low height of 5 feet 6 inches, Darling indulged in a little exhibition work, clearing the bar successively at 5 feet, 8 inches, 5 feet, 10 inches and 6 feet. The bar, previous jump of 5 feet 6 inches, was recorded at something over 5 feet, 11 inches. Winning the pole vault at 5 feet, 6 inches, he had the bar raised to 11 feet, and cleared it with ease, surpassing the old record of 10 feet, 6 inches. A feature of

South Common Stadium Track and Field Records

Broken at C.Y.M.L. Meet Saturday Afternoon

Top—Ed. Twohey, C. Y. M. L., Winning Senior 100-Yard Dash, With Sweeney second and Lynch, third, Lower Right—Darling and Flynn Going Over Hurdles. Lower Left—Twohey Winning First Heat of Dash.

Three track and field records for the South common stadium were broken in competition, and two others in exhibition, Saturday afternoon, at the second annual track meet of the Catholic Young Men's League, a meet which in every respect surpassed any previous event of its kind in the annals of Lowell athletics. Fourteen events, each of them closely contested, were run off in pleasing sequence, and the thousands of spectators who occupied every inch of space about the track and on the hillside, or the bleachers, were roused to enthusiasm in every contest.

Patrolman "Mike" Ryngaert, Ed. Twohey and Jimmie Andromeda were the record breakers. Ryngaert, wearing the leycum colors, gave the shot a terrific heave for the distance of 46 feet, 2 inches, beating Andromeda's record of 45 feet, 2 inches, made last year. The big fellow made the new distance twice, once in the trials by which all previous contestants were eliminated, and again in the second put, which seemed to be more than 46 feet, was called a foul, on the ground that he had thrown, rather than put, the shot.

Ed. Twohey, also a leycum representative, set the quarter-mile record by three seconds. This was one of the very close events of the afternoon.

Twohey running the distance in 53 seconds, beating Flynn of the Belmonts by inches. The previous record was 55 seconds.

Andromeda, athletic leader of the Greek-American Athletic club, established a new record in the discus throw, hurling the disc 128 feet 10 inches. The previous record, held by himself, was 120 feet. "Ted" Apostolides, a representative of the same club, also surpassed his previous record, throwing the missile 122 feet, 10 inches.

Pole Vault Champion

Brook Darling, former Lowell High school marvel and present holder of the New England inter-collegiate pole vault championship, won the pole vault and high jump hurdles, and ran a close second in the hurdles. A very small fraction of an inch proclaimed Flynn the winner in this race, however, as Darling had to be content with second place. At the conclusion of the high jump, which was won at the comparatively low height of 5 feet 6 inches, Darling indulged in a little exhibition work, clearing the bar successively at 5 feet, 8 inches, 5 feet, 10 inches and 6 feet. The bar, previous jump of 5 feet 6 inches, was recorded at something over 5 feet, 11 inches. Winning the pole vault at 5 feet, 6 inches, he had the bar raised to 11 feet, and cleared it with ease, surpassing the old record of 10 feet, 6 inches. A feature of the vault was the performance of Omer Dion, a pupil of Darling's, who won second place. Dion is a more school-boy, wearing knee britches.

Scoring the places in the various events, as 5, 2 and 1, the usual method of computation for first, second and third, respectively, the leycum boys carried off the honors with 56 points, 2 firsts, 2 seconds and 8 thirds. The Greek-American club was runner-up with 2 firsts and 3 seconds, a total of 15. The Belmont A.C. and R.A.A. tied for third place with 15 points each. The other 18 points went to contestants who were unaffiliated with any organization.

Flinders Led Field

Flinders led the field of individual performances, winning handsily in the half-mile, mile and 5-mile runs for a total of 15. Andromeda and Darling were even for second, the former winning the discus throw, running broad jump and securing second in the shot put, while Darling won the high jump, pole vault and was second in the hurdles. Twohey followed with a first in each of the dash events and a third in the shot put. Ryngaert and Sherburne were tied for position, Ryngaert winning the discus throw, and Sherburne taking second place in the mile and half mile.

The list of events and their winners follows: Track events: 100 yard dash for schoolboys: Trials: first heat, Twohey, first; Philip McGowan, second; second heat, Antonio Miot, first; Sam Cantara, second; third heat, Twohey, first; Philip McGowan, second; Antonio Miot, third. Time, 12 seconds.

BRITTON, VS. LEONARD

weight Champions Meet at New York Tonight

NEW YORK, June 25.—Jack Britton, veteran welterweight boxing champion and Benny Leonard, lightweight titleholder, will meet tonight in a 15-round decision contest at the New York Velodrome.

Britton's welterweight title will be at stake, but, as Leonard will enter the ring several pounds over the lightweight limit, his championship will not be risked.

The lightweight king is 10 years younger than Britton, and the latter has two inches advantage in height, but otherwise there is little difference in physical measurements.

The pair have met twice before in two no-decision contests, one in New York in 1917 over the 10-round route, and the other a six-round go at Philadelphia in 1918.

Third Straight Victory Over Pirates Moves Reds up the Ladder

White Sox Gain Firmer Hold on Fourth Place—Giants Win in the Ninth

NEW YORK, June 25.—The New York Giants, who have developed a habit of grabbing eleventh hour victories, snatched another brand from the burning yesterday. The Veterans Davey Robertson, pinch-hitting for Ryan, dealt the blow that brought across the winning run in the ninth, after the Braves had tried to cover and tied the count with three runs in the previous inning. The final score was 4 to 3.

Johnny Coach pitched Cincinnati to its third straight victory over Pittsburgh and the Reds climbed over both Chicago and the Pirates to occupy fourth place. The St. Louis Cardinals lambasted Vic Aldridge, Cub star, and won, 11 to 1, while Brooklyn squeaked out a 2-2 decision over the Phillies in 11 innings.

Ken Williams, St. Louis slugger, staged a few spectacular fielding tricks, instead of pulling his home run act, while the Browns, with Dixie Davis in form, blanked the Detroit Tigers, 6-0, and evened the four game series.

Chicago gained a firmer hold on first place, on the American league, by winning its fourth straight game, 4-3 in 10 innings. Tris Speaker was put out of the game for disputing a decision by Umpire Ed Walsh.

Zachary outpitched Bryan Harris, of the Athletics and Washington, won 2 to 1.

RESTORATION OF SUN'S INVESTIGATE ATTEMPT TO REGIME UNLIKELY STEAL LIQUOR

PEKING, June 25. (By Associated Press)—While advisers from Amoy indicated that troops of Sun Yat-sen, deposed president of the Canton republic, were pushing toward Canton in an effort to re-capture that city, other reports stated that these forces were scattered about Kiangsi province, disorganized and looting the territory. Official opinion in Peking today was that any attempt to restore Sun's regime would fail.

Republican leaders in the north continue to express confidence in the restoration of an all-China parliament. They predict that discordant elements will be subdued under the military leadership of Wu Pei-fu in the north and Chen Ching-ming in the south.

BOSTON, June 25.—Officials of the United States appraisers stores were checking the liquor in the seizure room today to determine whether the men who jammed the door early last Saturday morning, carried 450 bottles of whiskey to the first floor on a freight elevator, and then departed in an automobile had taken any liquor with them.

Samuel W. George, supervisor of the port of Boston, said watchmen had seen an automobile truck drive rapidly out of the archway of the appraisers building at about 2:45 o'clock Saturday morning. Upon investigation the watchman found that 50 sacks, each containing six bottles of whiskey had been piled on a freight elevator on the first floor of the building. They also found 25 sacks in a vestibule and later discovered that the door to the seizure room on the seventh floor had been jammed and some liquor removed.

Part of the liquor in the seizure room, officials said, was taken from the motor boat Wilkin 11, which was seized off Salem, last February.

Some "Hand-Made" Blouses Are Not Hand-Made

Varied, various and variable! For sport wear strictly tailored blouses are most popular with hand-made ones following close behind. The tailored blouses are worn with four-in-hands again—brilliantly colored ones—as well as ties of other kinds. Many of the white tailored blouses are trimmed with colored edgings or colored collars and cuffs. Checked gingham is the most popular material for these. The "hand-made" blouses are not all hand-made. Machine-made blouses with hand-done drawn work or cross-stitch are equally popular. For dress the overblouse continues to be favored. Especially attractive models are being made in sheer white cotton voile. The usual trimming is some of the new peasant embroidery.

LOWELL'S POPULATION

Interesting Figures Announced by the Department of Commerce

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—The department of commerce announces that, according to the census of 1920, the population of Lowell, 112,759, comprised 33,593 males 15 years of age and over, of whom 21,835, or 55.7 per cent, were married, and 42,512 females above the same age limit, of whom 21,353, or 50.6 per cent, were married. There were in the population of Lowell on the census date, 2164 widowers, 4779 widows, 118 divorced men and 163 divorced women. The population 45 years of age and over included 1432 single men and 2365 single women. As to widows there are 39 between the ages of 15 to 24, 841 between 25 and 44 years, and 3397 aged 45 or over. It is remarkable that there are 2815 more widows than widowers. This would indicate that the women outlive the men.

The women over fifteen years of age number 3629 more than the men over fifteen.

FUNERAL OF WILLIAM ROCKEFELLER TODAY

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 25.—In accordance with the last wishes of William Rockefeller, who died at his North Tarrytown estate, Saturday, Rev. Dr. Charles Warren Baldwin, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, Rockwood, N. Y., will conduct the simple funeral service this afternoon in Rockwood Hall, West Tarrytown.

There will be no honorary pall-bearers and attendance at the services will be limited to members of the Rockefeller family, a few business friends and several old employees from his offices in New York.

Interment will be in the mausoleum, near completion in Sleepy Hollow cemetery.

BODY OF WU TING FANG OF CHINA CREMATED

LONDON, June 25.—The body of Wu Ting Fang, former Chinese minister to Washington, was cremated today, says a Central News despatch from Hong Kong. He died at Canton last Friday.

The Christian funeral service was most impressive. A vast concourse of people was present, including a number of high officers of the South China army.

A brief address was given by British Consul Jamieson, who expressed the condolences of the British government.

EXAMINATION FOR CHAUFFEUR CARRIER

As a result of the civil service examination for clerk-carrier in the post office service, which will be held in Lowell on July 15, there will also be established a separate register for chauffeur-carrier. In order to qualify for the position of chauffeur-carrier, in addition to passing a written examination, it will be necessary that the applicant show that during the past three years he has had at least six months' experience as chauffeur or in operating an automobile or motor truck. Persons appointed from this register must serve for a period of three years before they will be eligible for transfer to other assignments.

WILL REPORT ON BOY SCOUT DRIVE

President C. D. A. Grasse has called the strategic board together tonight at 8 o'clock for reports on the Boy Scout drive. The captains are asked to get in all their reports to date, so that it may be known who has contributed and who has not, and a proper check-up of contributions and contributors made.

The board will decide tonight what is to be done during the present week, the last of the drive. Plans will be made to clean up all outstanding obligations, and to secure the remainder of the quota set at the drive's institution.

PLANS AN IRISH OPERA

Humphrey O'Sullivan Interested in Movement Headed by Egan, Irish Tenor

Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan has been interested in a movement set in motion in New York by Thomas Egan, the Irish tenor, and a number of his friends, the aim being to bring out an Irish opera by Irish singers.

The New York World, in a recent issue, had an article in reference to the movement from which the following is taken.

"We aim at forming a permanent national Irish opera," said Thomas Egan, Irish tenor, a director in the Irish Music Fountain, the headquarters of which is at No. 526 Fifth avenue.

At present Mr. Egan is devoting his afternoons to interviewing artists, students and others of Irish ancestry at his studio, No. 40 West 57th street.

If the British national opera could be so successful, he remarked, why not an Irish opera? Also, if Italian operas could be translated into all sorts of languages, including Russian, why not into Gaelic?

O'Brien Butler, who wrote the first original opera ("Muirghle") in Gaelic lost his life on the Lusitania.

Breached Before the War

"The idea originated before the war," said Mr. Egan. "I was singing at Drury Lane, London, at the time, the only Irish tenor in a company of Italian."

Friends began asking, why shouldn't an Irish opera company be formed entirely of Irish singers to render Italian opera in Gaelic? The question is now being gradually answered.

"We could not make progress while the war was on, nor while there were Irish men in Ireland, but I think things are quieter now and that we shall be

Elopers Found on Deserted Island

GLADYS WARREN (ABOVE), MARION McQUEEN AND THEIR CAMP ON SAND LAKE ISLAND, CANADA

(By N.E.A. Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 24.—Marion Paul McQueen, Nashville bank teller, and Gladys Warren, pretty manicurist, also of the Tennessee city, and like McQueen, just 20 years old, who tried "back to nature" life on an island in Sand Lake, Ontario, and all but starved in the attempt, went to jail as their first step toward civilization.

It was because of his infatuation for Miss Warren that McQueen, police charge, stole $2500 from the First National bank of Nashville, where he was employed.

Then the two fled together.

It was their plan to be married at Louisville, but they found the license clerk's office closed. They tried again at New Albany and Evansville, but nobody would marry them without their parents' consent, they looked so young. Later, though, they visited Chicago, Toronto and Kearney, they were too busy to think of matrimony. "It was only our haste to get away from civilization that made up for neglect the ceremony," McQueen explained.

From Kearney they drove and canoe to the Sand Lake island and it was from there, they money spent, that Miss Warren wrote to a Nashville friend for funds. The remittance came, but so did an officer. Waiting extradition, the pair were taken immediately to Buffalo and prison.

Against the girl, who knew nothing of the theft from the bank, there is no charge, but McQueen faces a penitentiary term. He will marry Miss Warren either before his sentence or after his release, he promises.

able to advance. Even so, we do not begin till 1923, when the concert tour opens at the Theatre Royal, Dublin, my native city.

"We want to discover and develop unusual musical talent among members of the Irish race wherever we find it, and it is my duty to seek it in New York—a task by no means easy. We do not expect to find the talent in Ireland, because as soon as an Irishman shows any signs of brilliance he leaves his own country and goes to another to win his way there."

In English, too

"We shall not confine ourselves to opera in Gaelic. Other works in English will be included. One of these will be "Countess Kathleen," the text and libretto of which are by William Butler Yeats and the music by Lennox, who was the composer of "Leontide," to be found in the repertoire of the Metropolitan Opera company. Others will be "Shamus O'Brien," by Sir Charles Villiers Stanford; "The Bohemian Girl," by Balfe, and "Jilly of Killarney," by Benedict. We must lighten the program. Gaelic is understood by the children—who learn it at school—but the language is so difficult that their fathers and mothers, if they have not acquired it in childhood, find it beyond them in later years.

"We are doing everything possible to foster Irish music. We are collecting and collating old songs and airs the existence of which has hitherto been unsuspected. I am hunting now for an opera by O'Dwyer that has been lost. When we have collected these old strains we will publish them. I have twenty of them myself, and occasionally I introduce them into my singing. People's eyes will open when they realize what songs there are that belong to Ireland. We have to show the Irish people themselves what wonderful music they possess."

Among the other aims of the Irish Music Foundation are the following:

"To urge that literary works on Irish music be catalogued in all public libraries of the world.

"To promote a worldwide educational campaign to secure recognition for the classic music of Ireland, to authenticate its history, and to stimulate future progress and interest.

"To publish and promote the sale of a complete history of Irish music from ancient times to present day."

Mr. Egan said that the people who had taken an active share in organizing relief for sufferers in Ireland were the kind who took an interest in this musical movement and that it was open to all who were willing to help in a spirit free from faction and from political and religious bias.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babes in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 80th year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free

OBSERVED THEIR SILVER WEDDING

About fifty couples, relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Desmarais, called at their home, 83 Fisher street, Saturday evening, to offer their congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of the silver wedding. Attending the festivities were guests from this city, Lawrence, Andover and Derry, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmarais were made the recipients of numerous gifts of silver and included among them was a purse containing one hundred silver dollars, which was presented by a brother of the groom, Mr. Joseph Desmarais of Derry, N. H., in behalf of those present. Entertainment was given by the program being Miss Bella Lavigne, Miss Antoinette and Bernadette Dion, Miss Laura Decelle, Wilfred Morin, Louis Matte, Mrs. Blanche Decelle, Alexandre Bourque, Albert Desmarais, Hector Jodoin and E. J. Larochelle. A buffet luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmarais, the latter formerly Miss Cecile Demer, were married at St. Anne's church, Lawrence, June 28, 1897, and immediately after their marriage they came to Lowell and have made their home here ever since. For a number of years, Mr. Desmarais was in the plumbing and steam fitting business and later he conducted a hardware and paint store in Lakeview avenue. Among the out-of-town guests in attendance were Wilfrid Morin, Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Morin, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Vallancourt, Mr. and Mrs. Octave Champagne, Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Philippe Desmarais, all of Lawrence; Mrs. J. J. Crowder of Andover; Mrs. Mary Desmarais and Henry Desmarais of Derry, N. H. The refreshments were served by Hector Desmarais and Charles Cote. Miss Sylvia Desmarais had general charge of the arrangements.

deliciously flavored WHOLE-WHEAT

Joy in work and play!

Delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing flavor of whole wheat for the first time in food history—build red-blood health into children, renew the strength and spirit of men and women and sustain the aged.

KRUMBLES are a necessity because they offset the denatured, devitalized foods we eat daily—foods robbed of life-giving substances! KRUMBLES not only contain every atom of the whole-wheat berry, but they supply the food elements the body needs!

KRUMBLES are a vital part of a child's diet because they build bone and tissue and make red blood! KRUMBLES will develop puny striplings into robust health; they will make them into strong men and women who can go out into the world prepared right to win the priceless joys of life! Buy KRUMBLES at all grocery stores.

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

Edwin H. Armstrong and his Super-Regenerative Receiver.

BY PAUL F. GODLEY.
America's Greatest Radio Authority
Present day radio hinges entirely around contributions which Edwin Howard Armstrong, formerly in charge of army radio in France, has made toward the advancement of the wireless art.

He discovered and charted the frequency oscillations used in wireless, thus providing a simpler means of producing an electric wave suitable for radio telephony.

He was the first to demonstrate how this vacuum tube could be relied upon to amplify an extremely weak signal over and over again.

With the final result that it would become very strong, thus making possible the regenerative receivers now used in so many homes.

Super-Regeneration
Finally, he has taken this form of receiver and improved it so that it can now give amplifications of a million times and upward.

Instead of one or two hundred times!

"A short way to describe the super-regenerative circuit," says Armstrong, "is that one vacuum tube is made to do the work formerly done by three."

It has been known for several years that the limit of amplification is reached when the negative charge in the tube approaches the positive.

"In experimenting I found that it was possible to increase the negative charge temporarily, for about 1-20,000 of a second, above the positive and still keep the average down. It is this possibility of increase which permits the enormous amplification and enables me to eliminate two tubes from the circuit."

No Outside Aerials
Of what benefit is all this to the radio amateur?

"An outfit equipped with a super-regenerative circuit," Armstrong goes on to explain, "is so sensitive that outside aerials are unnecessary."

"The other practical result will be the ability to detect wave lengths under 200 meters with ordinary amateur sets. In the past short wave lengths were undetectable for small sets."

Three tubes used with the circuit will give sufficient signal to fill a lecture hall.

HORRORS IN BELFAST DUE TO ATTEMPT TO COERCE ULSTER

Churchill Declares British Government Has Sent 50,000 Troops to Ulster—Will Continue to Support Northern Government in Efforts to Resist Southern Forces

LONDON, June 26. (By Associated Press.)—Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies, rising to make his promised statement on Irish affairs in the house of commons this afternoon, said the government desired the freest and fullest debate and one that could be terminated by a division.

Mr. Churchill declared he did not hesitate to say that all the horrors that had occurred in Belfast were due to the organization in northern territory of two divisions of the Irish republican army and the continuous efforts by extreme partisans of the south to break down the Ulster government and force Ulster against her will to come under the rule of Dublin.

The colonial secretary said the imperial government had supplied the northern Irish government with 50,000 troops for its defense. He added that the northern government would be supported effectively and at all costs in any attempt that might be made to coerce it into submission to the south.

He said the situation on the Ulster frontier was easier as a result of the triple arrangement made between the British, the provisional and northern governments whereby a neutral zone four miles wide was to be established in the Pettigo and Belleek districts.

The Sinn Fein, Mr. Churchill declared, had to realize that they would never win Ulster except by their own free will, and that the more they kicked the worse it would be for them. He said the imperial government would endeavor to stand between the antagonists and prevent the loss of life and the destruction of property, and by so doing make it absolutely clear that any attempt from southern forces to break into the territory of northern Ireland would be repulsed by imperial power.

"The imperial government," said Mr. Churchill, "feels that after the election which clearly showed what were the wishes of the Irish people we cannot continue to tolerate the many grave lapses of the spirit of the law and the imprudences and irregularities in its execution which we have put up with or acquiesced in during the last six months."

Speaking in regard to the fact that there had been an assassination of a prominent man in England, Mr. Churchill declared that for generations and even the height of the Irish struggle, no attempt had been made upon the lives of public persons in this country and that it was monstrous to make the tragic event which had just taken place the ground for an attack upon the police authorities or upon the home secretary.

JUDGE CLASHES WITH ATTORNEY

District Court Judge and Lawyer Disagree Over Defendant's Rights

Lowell Man Held in $1000 for Operating Auto While Intoxicated

Liquor Squad Put in Busy Week-End and Bring Many Into Court

A verbal clash between a local attorney and Judge Enright furnished the feature of this morning's district court session. With the admonition that he would also sentence the attorney, unless he subsided, and the reply of the attorney, "remember we are in court now," the incident ended. The rapid exchange of words served to stir up the atmosphere of the courtroom, and for the space of a minute tension was at the breaking point.

The case which brought forth the words was one in which Charles Bergeron and Louis Simons pleaded guilty to a statutory charge. The court fined each offender $75. Then a sister of the woman stepped forward and told the court that Bergeron had enticed the woman away from her husband and two small children. Several other allegations were made during her time on the stand. Upon hearing this story, the court asked the male defendant what he had to say regarding the charges, and he replied that some of them were true and others were not. He did not take the stand in making his answer.

Without a sentence the court then ordered the clerk to withdraw the $75 sentence and changed it to one of six months to the house of correction. The attorney then stepped forward and expressed the opinion to the court that the woman's testimony should be corroborated before changing the sentence. The court replied that the defendant had pleaded guilty. The attorney answered that he thought his lawyer should have to do so and at least deny the allegations made and tell his story.

The court then wanted to know if the attorney was attempting to criticize the court. The attorney replied that he simply wished to criticize the sentence. The court said that the attorney had no right to do so and the attorney answered that he disagreed, whereupon the court told the lawyer that any more talk of this kind and he would receive a sentence himself. The lawyer withdrew saying, "Remember we are in court now, your honor." His honor replied, "Yes, we are in court."

The male defendant appealed the third sentence and when the attorney stepped forward and asked that the woman be granted time to pay her fine, the court denied the request. Charges of being drunk and operating an auto while under the influence of liquor, he was held in $1000 until tomorrow, while the facts of the case could be looked into more fully. Rondeau was driving an auto at a wedding this morning, and smashed up the car quite a bit.

As a result of a concentrated drive on illegal liquor handlers, made Saturday night and yesterday by members of the vice and liquor squad, a number of persons were haled into court this morning. In all, the raiding squads made 17 arrests and were successful in many instances in getting evidence sufficient for conviction. The victims were kept out of the free and easy kind, for in one of two places the officers had to battle with defendants in order to obtain evidence.

Sgt. Winn, Officers Conney and Moore of the liquor squad, and Federal Officer Bowers made a visit in Market street Saturday night. As they reached a certain address they noticed a number of men coming out of a door. They were all drunk, according to the officers. The raiding squad tried to enter but a man inside refused to let them in. The officers forced their way in.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America and Secretary of Labor Davis will be President Harding's guests at luncheon today, when coal strike matters will be discussed.

FUNERAL OF SIR HENRY WILSON

Entire Three Mile Route Choked With Spectators—Traffic at Standstill

Offices and Shops Closed to Permit Employees to Witness Imposing Spectacle

LONDON, June 26.—(By Associated Press.)—Londoners by the hundreds of thousands left their homes early today to pay tribute to the late Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson at funeral services held for the late military chieftain, victim of the bullets of assassins. For hours they stood in line in the rain to watch the solemn procession making its way to the sound of muffled drums from the field marshal's late home in Eaton Place, to St. Paul's Cathedral. The entire three mile route was choked with spectators and all traffic was at a complete standstill.

Throughout the city all flags were half-masted and many offices and shops were closed to permit employees to witness the imposing ceremonial. Throughout the empire also the day was one of national mourning, even from far off New Zealand, coming word that minute guns would be fired during the funeral and all flags half-masted.

In northern Ireland, the home of the slain soldier, there were special manifestations of grief and memorial services were held in most of the churches.

The scenes in London contrasted strongly with those of a week ago when the city rang with the cheers of the multitudes welcoming home the prince of Wales. Today was sombre with the thud of muffled drums and the crunch of the feet of slow-moving

MRS. LEN SMALL DEAD

Wife of Illinois Governor Stricken During Celebration of Husband's Acquittal

KANKAKEE, Ill., June 26.—Mrs. Len Small, wife of Gov. Small of Illinois, died about 9 o'clock this morning.

Mrs. Small was stricken with apoplexy Saturday night during the excitement incident to the celebration of her husband's acquittal. She died after a brief illness. Her husband, who is governor as a result of his acquittal, was with her at the time of her death. She was the mother of three children, Leslie and Budd Small and Mrs. A. E. Ingles.

From the moment of Mrs. Small's collapse physicians offered an encouragement. She had suffered for some time with high blood pressure and her condition was believed to have been aggravated by the strain of the governor's trial.

Mrs. Small was born Dec. 17, 1861, in Livingston county, Illinois. She was married to Gov. Small in 1892.

BARGE BLOWN UP, WOMAN KILLED

Mrs. Green Dead, Her Two Children Missing, Her Husband and Others Burned

Three Barges and Half of Cottage Colony at Verona Beach Destroyed

Explosion on Powder-Laden Barge Tied Up at Dork at Oneida Lake

ONEIDA, N. Y., June 26.—Mrs. Ellis Green is dead, her two children are missing, her husband and several other persons are severely burned, and three barges, a tug and almost half of the cottage colony at Verona beach, on the large canal at Oneida lake, north of here, are destroyed by the result of the explosion last night of a powder-laden barge tied at a dock there.

Mrs. Green was drowned when her husband, engineer of the tug, sealing her clothing in flames, pushed her into the canal in an effort to save her life. Although he leaped in with her, he was unable to rescue her. Their two children have been missing since the first explosion.

The explosion occurred when a gasoline bilge pump backfired and ignited a case of powder on the dock. The first explosion set fire to the barge and tug, and the series of explosions resulting from the burning cargo showered sparks and bits of burning timber over the cottages along the shore.

The fire destroyed 13 cottages, a store, a hotel and an electric light power house.

The barges were under charter in the Du Pont Powder Co. It is said here, and were being towed to Buffalo. Their cargo had been raised from another barge sunk in the canal about two weeks ago at New London and was considered to be safe from any fire destruction.

Thousands of pleasure seekers at Sylvan beach, an amusement park across the canal from Verona beach, were thrown into a panic by the explosion and several persons were slightly injured.

PELLETIER DENIES ALL ALLEGATIONS

BOSTON, June 26.—Joseph C. Pelletier, former district attorney of Suffolk county, today filed in federal court a denial of all the allegations contained in the petition seeking his disbarment in the United States district court.

The petition, filed by United States District Attorney Robert O. Hurlin, was based on the findings of a justice of the Massachusetts supreme court, disbarring Pelletier. The disbarment in the state court was based on the court's decision in removing Pelletier as district attorney last winter for alleged misconduct in office.

A hearing on the petition this afternoon.

At the time set for the hearing, Assistant Federal District Attorney Curtis informed Judge Morton that Pelletier, in a letter, had requested a continuance until early in September. Mr. Curtis opposed so long a delay, questioning the continuance was put over until next Monday. Judge Mack of New York, will be on the bench at that time.

ADMISSION OF GERMANY TO LEAGUE FAVORED

LONDON, June 26.—(By Associated Press.)—Asked by Lord Robert Cecil in the house of commons this afternoon whether he could state the government's attitude towards the admission of Germany to membership in the League of Nations, Prime Minister Lloyd George replied that Great Britain would be willing to support a proposal for Germany's admission.

In answer to Lord Robert's question the prime minister said: "This is not a question which concerns Great Britain alone; it primarily concerns Germany herself. So far as his majesty's government is concerned, we would support a proposal to admit Germany to the league."

$40,000 FOR ERECTION OF NEW BRIDGE AT LUNDBERG STREET

Order in This Amount to Be Presented to Council by Mayor Brown—Street Department Men to Finish Andover Street Paving Tonight—Other City Hall News of the Day

At the next meeting of the city council, Mayor George H. Brown will present a loan order for $40,000 for the construction of a new bridge over the railroad tracks at Lundberg street. The present structure has been condemned by the city engineer and has been closed to vehicular traffic for the past two months. It is felt that its repair is impossible and that the only solution is a new bridge.

Street Work in Progress

Men of the street department tonight will finish the paving of Andover street from Fayette to High streets. The paving will be allowed to set for several days, although the city engineer said today that it will be opened for traffic before July 4.

Excavating was begun today in Manchester street preparatory to laying a new roadway of concrete. The department also had a gang of men today in Anne street removing the edgstones on the north side near the canal. Seal coating has been finished in Parkview, Wentworth and Putnam avenues and Troy streets.

$3,000,000 Temporary Money

City Treasurer Fred Rourke believes that with the additional authorized by the council.

Crisis Confronting British Government One of Most Serious in Its Career

LONDON, June 26.—(By Associated Press.)—Several of the London evening newspapers before the opening of today's Irish debate in the house of commons, expressed the view that the resignation of Home Secretary Short might be the sequel to the debate, in which answers to four searching questions were to be demanded. The evening News asserts that the crisis confronting the government is one of the most serious of its career.

Entire Police Force Mobilized to Halt March of Striking Miners

FAIRMONT, W. Va., June 26.—The entire Fairmont police force and all of the Marion county deputy sheriffs were mobilized at 11:30 o'clock today to stop a reported march of striking miners and sympathizers from Monongah, a mining town 10 miles to the south. The authorities said they had been informed an attempt was to be made to liberate 31 prisoners from the county jail. These men were arrested last Friday after a march of strikers.

KEEP MARINE FORCE IN HAITI TO BRING GUILTY TO JUSTICE

Indefinite Continuance of American Military Occupation Favored

Report of Special Senate Committee Which Conducted Investigation

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Indefinite continuance of American military occupation of Haiti but with a reduction of the marine force, was recommended in an unanimous report presented today by the special senate committee which for months has been investigating American administration in Haiti and Santo Domingo.

The declaration that early withdrawal of or drastic reduction in the American marine occupation force in Haiti would be followed certainly by brigandage and revolution, was made in the report signed by Senator McCormick, republican, Illinois, chairman, and Senators Capper, republican, Nevada; Pomerehne, democrat, Ohio, and Jones, democrat, New Mexico, who have held protracted hearings and recently toured Haiti and Santo Domingo.

The committee found that on the whole American administration in Haiti had been of great benefit to the people, but that it was so regarded, it said, by a vast majority. The American record, however, as described in the report, stated, adding that there had been some "blunders," and a few instances of cruelty against natives by members of the military force.

In brief, under the treaty between Haiti and the United States, the report said, the peace of the republic, the security of its government and the security of its people have been established for the first time for many years.

In justification of American intervention, the report said that "the chronic anarchy into which Haiti had fallen, the exhaustion of its credit, the threatened intervention of the German government and the actual landing of French naval forces, all imperilled the Monroe doctrine and lead the government of the United States to take the successive steps set forth to establish order in Haiti, to help institute a government as nearly representative as might be and to assure the collaboration of the governments of the United States and Haiti for the future maintenance of peace and the development of the Haitian people."

Investigation of Herrin Massacre Being Done by State and Federal Agents

County Officials Made no Effort to Fix Blame—Not a Single Arrest Made

Victims Buried Yesterday After Abbreviated Service—Inquest Held

HERRIN, Ill., June 26.—(By Associated Press.)—Williamson county buried the dead in her latest mine war yesterday, conducted an inquest to determine the cause of their death and today faced the responsibility of bringing the guilty to justice.

With not a single arrest made since the massacre of last Thursday, when at least 19 men were killed after strike sympathizers stormed the Lester mine, and with county officials making no visible efforts to place the blame, the investigating is being done by state and federal agents.

Representatives of the department of justice, department of labor, the state attorney general and the adjutant general are quietly delving into the cloak of secrecy which so far has surrounded the identity of the 500 men who marched from Herrin in broad daylight, took more than 50 unarmed mine prisoners and killed 19 and wounded nearly as many more.

Yesterday six men of Williamson county were impounded, listened to the evidence of witnesses called by Coroner William McCowen, and returned their verdict.

They found that C. K. McDowell, murdered superintendent of the Lester mine, killed a union miner on Wednesday, the day before the massacre. Of the other dead, 13 in all, including two other strikers, the jury found they came to their death by gunshot wounds inflicted by unknown persons.

Yesterday morning 16 unknown dead and non-union workers and guards at the Lester mine were buried by the county in Potter's field. The bodies of the massacre victims, in plain caskets, were placed side by side on the grass. Four Protestant ministers of Herrin conducted the brief burial service, while a hundred miners and a dozen newspaper correspondents looked on.

The ministerial quartet sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," read a Psalm, delivered a prayer and in an abbreviated form of burial service, committed the bodies to the earth, but omitted to commit the souls to God.

15 OF MISSING MEN RESCUED

Schooner Coral Spray Arrives at La Have, N. S., With Wreck Survivors

Only One Member of Crew of Schooner Puritan Was Drowned

LA HAVE, N. S., June 26.—The schooner Coral Spray arrived today with 15 of the 16 missing men of the Gloucester schooner Puritan, which was wrecked off Sable Island, June 23. Only one of the crew, Christopher Johanson was drowned.

Hope, had almost been abandoned for the men by Captain Jeffrey Thomas and four of his crew who were rescued and brought to Halifax. The schooner, which was a prospective contender for the international fishermen's races next fall, was reported a hopeless wreck.

MANY PICKETS OUT

Few Went to Work at Pacific Mills, Lawrence, This Morning

LAWRENCE, June 26.—Although the picket lines at the Pacific Mills were large this morning, they were orderly and the crowd was unobtrusive, except for a little booling. According to the police at the various gates, very few went to work, perhaps not more than a dozen or fifteen. Normally the mills employ about $200. The biggest picket line was at the Lower Pacific, where it was estimated that there were more than 2000 men and women. Some big union leaders, including Ben Legere, were on the job.

Officials of the mills said they had expected that only a few workers would report today, in view of the fact that large numbers of pickets would undoubtedly be on duty.

SUMMIT UNATTAINABLE

Mount Everest Has Again

Baffled the Best Efforts of Man

LONDON, June 26.—(By the Associated Press)—The comment of the Paris newspapers is generally favorable to the personality of Dr. Walter Rathenau, German minister, and the newspapers declare that the cause of his assassination may be explained by his efforts peacefully to arrange reparations with France.

The German nationalists and monarchists hated of France is linked with a blind desire for revenge in explaining the crime.

The Figaro says: "The assassination is the result of the Pan-German excitement and is further proof of what the French people have long realized regarding Germany's hatred of France. Rathenau was an obstacle to Germany's immediate revenge. His idea was to repair first the result of defeat. He did not holdly proclaim his intentions as did Stinnes and Ludendorff. France must realize that there are but two doctrines in Germany: one for revenge now and one for revenge later."

General Bruce was most reluctant to abandon further attempts, but the condition in which the first two climbing parties returned, the advice of his medical officers and the certainty of worse weather conditions daily forced him to a decision, says the writer.

Major R. T. Marshall was the worst sufferer from frost bite. G. L. Maylory and another member of the party also were badly bitten and several others less severely.

The correspondent quotes one of the greatest authorities on Himalayas as saying that Bruce's "glorious failure" has proved conclusively that the summit is almost unattainable.

Adventures of The Twins

COMET-LEGS GIVES 'EM 40 MOONS IN ONE NIGHT

DOWN ON THE EARTH EVERYBODY WAS LOOKING AT THE MOON WITH LONG GLASSES.

Mr. Peetrabout, the Man-in-the-Moon, was lost. Nancy and Nick hunted and hunted. And the Weatherman, Mr. Sprinkle-Blow, hunted and hunted. And the dream-fairies hunted and the Sweep hunted and all the people in the moon-cities hunted.

But Mr. Peetrabout was as missing as Tommy Brown's front teeth.

"I just know that wicked old Comet-Legs has hidden him some where," declared Nancy.

Just then they came to the house where Mr. Peetrabout kept his handles for running the moon.

And there was Comet-Legs pulling out handles and putting them back and then pulling them all out at once and showing them every way.

"Ha, ha, ha!" he was roaring. "I'll bet the earth people think I'm a fine Man-in-the-Moon. I'll give 'em a moon in one night. I will!"

Of course, my dears, the moon was doing awful things. The Twins and Mr. Sprinkle-Blow could hardly keep their feet with the jerking. And everybody was as dizzy as if he'd been playing whirlpigs.

The moon-cities were falling to pieces, houses tottering and chimneys falling down and houses crumbling. A moon-quake is quite as bad as an earthquake. Even the tops of the mountains were falling off.

Down on the earth everybody was looking at the moon with long glasses.

"Mr. Peetrabout's gone plumb crazy!" they cried. "Just look at that! We'll have to put him out. One minute he gives us a new moon and the next an old one."

"One time the moon's dry and the next it's got its corners down which means rain. We don't know whether to go hunting or fishing or what to do. Yes, sir, old Peetrabout's lost his senses."

EVILS OF COAL BUSINESS

Blame Must Be Laid on "Common Garden Variety of Blind Selfishness"

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 25.—The blame for most of the evils that burden the coal business and have burdened it for years must be laid on the "common garden variety of blind selfishness," George O. Smith, director of the United States geological survey, said today in an address before the national conference of coal workers here.

"The sharp buying of coal and disregard of contracts whenever the market favors the buyer, the profiteering by the operator or dealer when his turn comes, the collective bargaining with the walkout as the club—all these bring unnecessary hardships into the business and add useless costs to the product," Mr. Smith said. "The general welfare is tied up with a regular supply of lower cost coal and larger earnings for those who produce it."

Describing conditions under which soft coal miners work, Director Smith said:

"The running time is broken into small pieces, for mine operation is not simply seasonal, it is intermittent. In that theoretical mine of the statistician the average mine of the country, we find November a longer month than June by 25 per cent; June longer than April by 16 per cent, and so on, the working time in a normal November is only 12 to 21 days. And irregularity creeps into the working week and the working days for Friday and Saturday day are normally shorter days than Monday.

"The average working time by states and fields shows marked and significant differences. The average year in the southern Appalachian region is a longer year than in the Central competitive district.

"The various methods of mending the broken year is the practical remedy of stabilizing the coal market, and here is the consumer's opportunity to co-operate. You and I need to buy coal at times when we need the coal least. Off-season delivery of coal even to the small consumer whose name is legible, will help materially to make the mine workers' June more like November. The large consumer can do even more to smooth out the irregularities of mine operation by making long term contracts and providing for delivery to suit the mine as well as himself.

"The market demands a more regular and the over-developed industry must suffer deflation; fewer mine and fewer miners can and should supply the needed coal. A longer working year for a reduced force is the only possible method of bringing about the lower wage scale and the larger annual earnings, both of which are generally needed."

WRINKLED SILKS Fabrics woven in deep wrinkles seem very popular now, particularly when the fabric is a gold or silver metal cloth. For coats this material is most effective.

SAVED FROM DROWNING

Motor Boat Lost in Merrimack — Coast — Guards

Saved Two Men in Charge

Coast guard life savers rescued two men from drowning in the wreck of their boat when dashed upon the rocks at mouth of the Merrimack river yesterday morning while the storm raged fiercely. The boat had been out some miles from shore and sought refuge in the Merrimack, but at that time the tide was nearly at its height and the wind was sending huge waves over the piled rocks which line the sides of the estuary. The men in charge of the boat had a hard time keeping her from being upset, but in the midst of their struggle the motor stopped, probably because of the water which continually dashed over the sides of the craft.

Then the men were at the mercy of the waves. The boat was dashed upon the jetties on the north side of the river. The "jetties" is the name given a piled wall of boulders projecting into the ocean on either side the river to prevent the estuary filling up with sand. One man managed to climb from the boat to the rocks, but was in imminent danger of being washed out with every wave that lashed the boulders. Cottagers who saw the signal of distress telephoned the life savers at Plum Island who arrived in time to save the men but the boat could not be saved. It remained above water for half an hour afterwards. Other boats came to the scene but did not dare approach lest they would meet a similar fate.

The motor boat sank in thirty feet of water and search at low tide after the storm had ceased, failed to show any sign of the wreck. The boat had probably been swept out to sea.

KIDNAPPED BY BANDITS

A. Bruce Bielaski Held for Ransom by Seven Bandits in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, June 26.—(By Associated Press)—A. Bruce Bielaski, head of the bureau of investigation of the American department of justice, during the war, is being held for ransom by seven bandits who held up his automobile seven miles west of Cuernavaca, in the state of Morelos, yesterday.

Mr. Bielaski, together with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Barcena of Mexico, was on the way to view some Aztec ruins near the town, when the bandits suddenly appeared and stopped them at the point of guns. The women were released, but after robbing them, the bandits took Mr. Bielaski and Mr. Barcena with them.

When the news reached this city, the American charge d'affaires, George T. Summerlin, immediately communicated with the authorities at Cuernavaca, as well as getting in touch with the federal government and Secretary of War Serrano ordered federal troops in the vicinity to start after the bandits.

Mr. Bielaski, who is no longer connected with the American government is now vice-president of a Richmond, Va. Co., which has extensive oil holdings near Mexico City and Tampico. Mr. Barcena is an attorney connected with racing enterprises at Tijuana.

23RD WEEK OF STRIKE IN RHODE ISLAND

PAWTUCKET, R. I., June 26.—The 23rd week of the strike in the Blackstone valley opened quietly today. Although an injunction has been granted against picketing at the mills affected in this city, deputy sheriffs continue to do guard duty and the "flying squad" of police ride in an automobile from mill to mill but they seldom have trouble from strike sympathizers. The deputies say that more workers are steadily reporting at the mills but none of them have more than half a day's work quota. In Pawtucket, Ashton and Berkeleys mills remain open but the workers continue to keep away.

Thomas F. McMahon, president of the United Textile Workers of America, is expected back today from Cincinnati, where he attended the American Federation of Labor convention.

THOUSANDS ATTEND WATER SERVICE AT PAWTUCKET BRIDGE

With several thousand persons in attendance, James A. Gardfield, W.R.C., 33, held his water service yesterday afternoon. Services were held in the Pawtucket Congregational church, where the pastor, Rev. Arthur Lyons, paid eloquent tribute to the dead. Later came the water service on the bridge, the navy being represented by Arthur P. Moran.

The ritualistic service was in charge of the President, Mrs. Alice Schofield, and officers, and the outdoor exercises were in charge of the patriotic instructor, Mrs. Anna C. Holland. At the church service a brief address was given by Capt. Wm. D. White, U.S.N., retired. Musical numbers were contributed by Miss Amy French, Winifred Guild, Hubert Fullerton, Frank Bartlett, Mrs. Charles S. Young, John McArde, Master Coburn Emery and the Sons of Veterans' quartet, which consisted of Frank Bartlett, George E. Worthen, Loren E. Smith and Robert Fullerton. Mrs. Eleanor Parker was accompanist.

BUSINESS MAINTAINS GAINS DURING WEEK

NEW YORK, June 26 (By the Associated Press).—Notwithstanding the uncertainties comprised in the several labor disputes and the impending reductions in railroad freight rates, industry maintained its gains during the past week.

Steel Products Firm
Steel mills continued to operate at nearly 75 per cent of capacity and the prices of steel products remained firm. Buying for prompt shipment was stronger than that for future delivery, but this was considered natural by the trade, since the future course of prices is rendered uncertain by such factors as the change in railroad rates, the coal strike, the possibility of higher labor costs and the character of the autumn demand for steel.

Impressive gains were shown by the latest railroad car loading figures—those for the week ending June 10. Although coal shipments, which have been gaining, still amounted to only 38,000 cars, as compared with 26,000 cars in the week before the strike started, the volume of other freight increased sufficiently to bring total loadings up to 516,000 cars. This figure equals that recorded in the week before the strike began, which is, incidentally, the high record for the year.

Exports Crises in Coal
A number of well-posted observers are inclined to the view that a crisis in the soft coal strike is approaching. Stocks are being drawn down and the lower freight rates on July 1 are expected to stimulate demand. In any event, the pressure for added production appeared to be growing, a circumstance which favors the view that the decisive point in the struggle is pending.

Reports from New England said that more of the striking textile workers were returning to the mills. The mills appear, however, to be still operating at a comparatively low rate.

Opinions as to the likelihood of a railroad strike continue to be divided. The roads still profess to regard such an event as unlikely, and it is pointed out that there has been some slackness in the bargaining. Union officials insist, however, that the vote will favor a walkout and that one will be ordered. Nothing definite has developed as to whether the train service employees would declare a sympathetic strike if the staff employees squad from the Sons of Veterans fired a volley over the water. The squad was made up of Benjamin F. Farshley, Frank Ham, Adelbert Ames, Clarence Sanger, Karen E. Smith, William Hall and Charles Stanger. Following the sounding of "Taps" by Louis Monroe, the entire assembly joined in the singing of "America, the Beautiful," and there was benediction by Rev. Arthur Lyons.

who are concerned in the present series of wage cuts, should go out.

Crop prospects remained somewhat uncertain, but a good yield of wheat and a substantial cotton crop are still probabilities. Some claims of winter wheat deterioration on account of hot dry weather in the Northwest have been made, and prices have rallied about 5 cents above the recent low, but the greater firmness is attributed to the technical position of the market rather than to any material change in crop prospects.

Persistent wet weather in the South led to higher cotton prices early in the week. After the weather cleared, however, the fresh advance was cancelled.

Reduction of the rediscount rate of the federal reserve bank at New York to a 4 per cent basis offered fresh support for the view that no early hardening in money rates is likely. Rates for the various forms of credit are now at their lowest point of the year. With reserves at a high level, with the demand for accommodation slight, and with a moderate trade revival under way, the market is expected to remain easy for some time.

BANKS ROBBED OF $100,000

Man Held at Attleboro Said to Have Made Cleanup by Forged Checks

ATTLEBORO, June 26.—How a young man with a penchant for high finance evolved a clever scheme to get rich in a hurry and how he victimized a score of the most conservative banks in the east in the time of $100,000 was related here yesterday by representatives of the William J. Burns detective agency, following the arrest Saturday night of William T. Sheehan, after an automobile chase of a mile.

An attempt to evade the watchful eyes of the police in keeping a clandestine bank in the city was made by his undoing. Although it was a desire to see his wife and two children that led to Sheehan's capture, it was his insatiable greed that proved the Waterloo of the embryo Wallingford.

Not content with obtaining up $100,000 in the short space of a year Sheehan, once a foreman in a jewelry factory and later a real estate dealer, worked his game under the very noses of some of the best detectives in the nation and with a boldness that brought success in the face of warning clouds.

According to John A. Packard, New England manager for the Burns agency, William T. Kierman of Utica, N. Y., an accomplice of Sheehan, was arrested in Buffalo three weeks ago.

Sheehan is more than six feet in height and weighs 250 pounds. He is a model of mortal splendor. In his cell here yesterday he protested his innocence and waived extradition to go back to Rochester, where the bench warrant for his arrest was issued. His wife visited him through the day and his friends brought him newspapers and cigars while he made himself comfortable.

Wanted in Boston
Inspectors from Cambridge and Boston, where banks have been victimized, sought yesterday to have him identified for several local swindlers, but Chief of Police Glavin insisted upon turning the man over to the Rochester police under the alias of Edward H. Shaw.

Inspector Michael Nelson of the Cambridge police and Inspector Francis P. Haggerty of Boston headquarters returned empty-handed.

According to the detectives Sheehan left a trail of forged checks from Boston to Georgia. His practice, it is alleged, was to visit a city and open an account with a bank. He would then draw a check and have it certified, making it necessary for the bank to cash the check. After the check had been certified he would either raise the amount or write a new check and force the certification stamp and signatures of the bank officials.

Judge Clashes With Attorney

In and found a still in operation. A man and woman were inside and the woman was engaged in dismantling the still. She pulled the still apart and one part of it was a window. The man jumped out a window and made his way over the roof to another tenement where he was cornered and arrested. The woman put up quite a battle and succeeded in striking both Sgt. Winn and Officer Bowers. In connection with this case William Wickelstein pleaded not guilty to illegal keeping. His case was continued to July 6.

On visiting a place in Adams street

the same party ran into another warm reception. Winn and Bowers went into a store on the ground floor and found a store of alleged moonshine and the glasses from which it is alleged, it was served. Officers Moore and Conney went to the tenement upstairs. Here the pair encountered two women. Everything was going along smoothly until Officer Conney jumped out a window, onto a roof, and found a gallon jug of alleged "shine." Then the fun began.

One of the women jumped at Officer Moore, while the other engaged Officer Conney in battle as he came back through the window with his prize. Conney was searching for more evidence when his work was rudely interrupted as he was struck in the leg by an iron bar wielded by the woman. The second blow struck the officer on the back and when the third blow was aimed Officer Conney made up his mind the woman wasn't fooling in the least bit. In attempting to dodge the blow Conney put the leg within the range of the iron bar and a dull sickening (to the officer) thud followed in which the leg was broken and its contents spilled all over the floor.

As a result of this party George Mangour appeared in court this morning and pleaded not guilty to a charge of illegal keeping. His case was continued to July 6 upon a request of the government.

And Another Hunch

Believing there was more contraband to be found in this neighborhood the officers made a visit for the purpose, as they approached their objective, a woman on watch cried "The Cops." The squad rushed the house and arrived inside in time to see the supposed proprietor smashing beer-dilled bottles with a big stick. There were three rooms in the rear of the place and in them were found 22 men drinking and in other ways enjoying themselves. Some of the men attempted to break their bottles and glasses, while others drained their drinks with the words that were going to their lips and weren't going to allow the raiders to cheat them out of it. No arrest was made but it is expected the proprietor will be brought in some time during the day.

From Adams St. the party journeyed on to Salem street. Surrounding a near-beer saloon somewhat different tactics were decided upon. After watching the place for a while members of the squad saw the alleged proprietor call to a man in the front part of the place. The officers alleged the man responded to the call by taking out a bottle from his pocket and pouring one of the regular customers a drink.

The officers then made their entrance and rounded up both the proprietor and his alleged assistant. The man admitted, according to the officers, that he was being paid $2 per day for acting as storehouse to the proprietor. He said that customers were charged 25 cents for a drink out of the bottle.

Fined $100
As an afterthought to this affair Ernest Penault appeared in court this morning, pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and paid a fine of $100.

After a short rest from their Saturday night visits, the officers met at the station yesterday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. Sgt. Winn, Officers Moore and Conney and Patrolman J. H. Murphy made a Union street house a call. Fourteen men were arrested and pleaded guilty to gambling on the Lord's day when they appeared in court today. Each paid a fine of $5.

The day's work ended with a visit to a place conducted by Manuel C. Destenout. Here the officers allege they found Manuel serving drinks to three other men. He had a pile of morphine and several small glasses which were confiscated. In court this morning Manuel pleaded guilty to an illegal sale and was fined $100.

George F. Macure pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was taken to the house of correction for three months. It was brought out that he already owes the court $10 as part of a fine previously assessed.

$40,000 For a New Bridge

ization of $1,000,000 to be borrowed as temporary money in anticipation of revenue, the city will be able to function properly until tax money begins to come in. The city council has authorized a loan of $2,000,000, there remains $200,000 that has not yet been borrowed.

Packard Investigation Dropped
As far as can be ascertained, any investigation that was to have been made by the city council of the mayor's purchase of a Packard touring car for its departmental use, has been snuffed out by an extinguishing process of some sort or other.

It was at last Thursday night's meeting of the city council that the mayor was supposed to present a bill to a previous order introduced by Councilman John J. McPadden, wherein it was asked to what appropriation or account the purchase price of the machine had been charged. No such reply was received, however, and although Purchasing Agent Foye was at city hall in response to a summons, he left before the council convened when he was informed that he needn't wait.

Nomination Expired Today
The mayor's nomination of Mrs. Sarah R. Kittredge for the position of assistant superintendent of state aid automatically became void today with the expiration of the 30-day period since it was presented to the city council.

The nomination would have been of no effect, however, inasmuch as it could not have been acted upon in face of the opinion given by the city council general which substantiated the ruling of the civil service commissioner that Mrs. Mary F. McCann, the present incumbent, properly has been classified as under civil service laws and regulations.

For Sale of Fireworks
More permits for the storage and sale of fireworks have been issued by the chief of the fire department this year than ever before. To date Chief Saunders has signed 205 such permits, each of which adds 50 cents to the general tax fund. Last year 200 permits were issued, while in 1920, 1919 and 1918 there were respectively 170, 128 and 102 permits given.

For L. H. S. Graduation
City carpenters today were erecting seats for the stage of the high school graduating class on Wednesday evening. It is thought that the stage will accommodate 200, while pupils who are not able to find room there will occupy upper and lower boxes.

Will Take Bar Examinations
Two city attaches, who have taken the study of law in connection with their municipal connections, will take the Massachusetts bar examinations on Saturday of this week. They are

James H. Riley, chairman of the school committee, and Miss Lilla S. Cutler, police department stenographer.

New Inspector Qualified
Charles L. Gallagher qualified as superintendent of wires today, before City Clerk Stephen Flynn. The oath of office was administered to the new official at 11 o'clock and at once he assumed the duties of the office.

Meetings This Week
The final meeting of the school committee before next fall's will be held on Thursday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock.

More Papers Filed
Additional nomination papers for Governor Channing Cox and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge were filed today for certification, with the board of election commissioners.

Degree of Bachelor of Commercial Science was awarded to James H. Kellogg, Allan R. Kirkland and Arthur K. Wilson, three Lowell men, at the commencement exercises of Northeastern university in the Boston Opera House last Wednesday evening, when the latest class in the history of the university received degrees in the presence of an audience which filled the entire auditorium.

Mrs. Rose L. Brown is home for the summer vacation, after teaching school for the past year in Dorchester. She will spend a few weeks at Old Orchard, and then attend to her playground duties here. Miss Brown is a graduate of Lowell, high 1915, Lowell Normal 1921, and has been appointed a special assistant by Boston school committee.

Frank P. McMartin has purchased the Walter H. McDaniels estate at 437 E. Main street, from Rutherford M. Blair.

A son, John Robert, was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Dawson at Forest Hills hospital, Boston. Mrs. Dawson was Miss Rose Rogers of Ludlum street.

A farewell reception was tendered to Mrs. John Brady, Friday night, at her home in 70 Lawrence street, by a number of her friends who wished her bon voyage on her trip to Europe. Mrs. Brady sailed out of New York Saturday, on the steamship Columbia, and will remain abroad until the latter part of September.

Philip H. Molloy, son of Superintendent of Schools of Lowell, and freshman at Boston college, has won an award of $25 in gold for the presentation of the best essay on the subject, "The Influence of Sir Walter Scott on English Novel Writing." The contest was open to members of all four classes in the college and the award was announced in connection with the commencement week exercises.

The Nurses' Alumnae association of St. John's hospital held a quarterly meeting at the hospital Saturday afternoon that included a business session and luncheon. The association president, Miss Helen Fitzpatrick presided over the business meeting. The luncheon was served by the Misses Catherine Sullivan, Alice Gorman, Margaret Craig, Katherine Kierce and Mary Woodhead. An informal program of music also was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hamel, the latter formerly Miss Cecile Latour, who were married at St. Louis church June 14, were tendered a reception at the home of the groom's father, Mr. Noe Hamel, 57 Dracut street, last evening. On the occasion of their return from their honeymoon trip, the numerous relatives and friends of the young couple called to extend their congratulations and best wishes and all spent a most enjoyable evening. Entertainment numbers were given and a buffet luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Hamel will make their home at 57 Dracut street.

CANTALOUPE ROTTEN ON GROUND
BRAWLEY, Cal., June 26.—About eight million cantaloupes rotted on the ground in this vicinity yesterday, the growers having decided to cease picking and take the resulting loss in the hope that as a consequence overstocking of eastern markets would be eliminated and they could get a price for their products that would afford them a profit.

Annual Graduation Exercises of St. Peter's Parochial School

The third graduation exercises of St. Peter's parochial school were held yesterday afternoon in St. Peter's church, which was filled to capacity for the occasion by relatives and friends of the 47 graduates. The altar and sanctuary were beautifully decorated with flowers and potted plants forming an excellent background for the impressive services.

The exercises opened with the singing of the "Vent Creator" by St. Peter's choir, augmented for the occasion by the voices of 400 children of the parish school, and concluded with Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

Rev. D. J. Hoffmann delivered an eloquent and comprehensive sermon based on the text, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His Justice, and all things else shall be added unto you." After explaining that the words of the text were not of man's making but are a part of the Sermon on the Mount, given by our Lord Himself, and therefore eternally true, he continued saying in part, "Religion, the union and the tie binding man to God is the most sublime, the most beautiful and the most satisfying thing men can know. On the other hand, knowledge is the most powerful and influential force in the world. It builds empires, supports governments and decides destinies of men. Religion plus knowledge moves the world; they must go hand in hand all through the ages. Both should be practiced together, for if not, divorce, ruin and misery result."

"In the first days of the church, twelve poor and unlettered fishermen were sent forth by the Master to teach all nations, and because they heeded the injunction, 'Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His Justice,' they went forth and subdued haughty Rome, with its grandeur, its Caesars and Augustus and mighty, intellectual Greece, triumphantly placing the Church of Peter on the very ruins of those once magnificent empires."

"The church of Christ knows man has a soul as well as a body and therefore Christian education is a necessity—an absolute necessity. It has come down through the years with the Catholic church which insists only teaches that religion and knowledge cannot be divorced with impunity."

In concluding, the speaker exhorted the graduates to remember the lessons taught in the parish school and to go out into the world unafraid, because the prayers of the sisters and priests were with them. He further emphasized the unselfishness of the good sisters and the sacrifices of the parents who had borne a double taxation that the child might be given the benefit of such a training and be a credit to civilization and the nation.

Rev. D. J. Ketcher, R. D., then addressed the graduates and congratulated them on the successful completion of their course at St. Peter's, reminding them of the debt of gratitude they owed the priests, sisters and parents, and to continue in their chosen vocations with the same zeal and honesty of purpose that they exhibited during their eight years of study under the direction of the Sisters of Charity.

The presentation of diplomas then took place, the graduates marching to the altar where they were arranged in the shape of a heart.

LONG HAND VS. SHORTHAND

Much attention has recently been drawn to the testimony of a reporter of the New Bedford Standard named Wilson relative to his ability to report shorthand in court accurately without the aid of shorthand.

His report, in the form of questions and answers, was brought forward and the district attorney heckled him on the supposed impossibility of reporting such evidence without using shorthand.

Here are a few of the questions and answers in which the reporter sustained his asserted ability to report court testimony accurately:

"Mr. Wilson, do you, under oath, swear before this jury that you can accurately report any trial writing the questions and answers down in long hand?"

"I certainly do."

"Why, don't you know that it is impossible? Isn't it superhuman for any reporter to get down every word of a long trial in long hand?"

"I didn't say I got every word."

"Well, do you mean to say that you can write faster in long hand than anybody else can in shorthand?"

"I haven't said so. I said I could report the trial accurately."

"Mr. Kenney, and I can."

"Without a mistake?"

"Without a mistake."

"Will you swear, for instance, that when you said a team backed up to get the liquor, quoting a witness, that the witness said 'team' and not 'automobile'?"

"I most certainly will. I reported what he said."

"And that these questions and answers are what were said?"

"If they're in quotes, that's what was said."

In that case the district attorney did not realize that a fast long hand writer in such cases is immeasurably more reliable than a poor stenographer. It is true, that when a fast speaker is to be reported, the long hand reporter may have to depend upon his memory to fill some gaps, but in such cases his memory is usually equal to the task, whereas the stenographer depends upon his notes.

The stenographer who cannot read his own notes is the most inaccurate of all reporters. There is an actual plague of such shorthand writers in this and other cities at the present time. They are young people who learned a smattering of shorthand at the high school, but never followed it far enough to make any practical use of it. Nevertheless, they think they can write shorthand. The time spent upon it was thrown away. A large proportion of them, even if they did master the art, would find it useless because of their superficial knowledge of English. Stenography is very generally dispensed with nowadays as many typists are able to write as fast as the average person wants to dictate and the phonograph comes in to take the place of the stenographer. The typist, when professional men want to dictate their speech into the phonograph and a typist can translate the record into copy in the usual way. This eliminates stenography, which was always a cause of double work.

SOUTHERN PRESS-AGENTS

Fairly glowing accounts of "the ideal life" in southern textile centers are reaching northern mill districts in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire. Press agents appear to be at work for some time reaching after New England manufacturing plants. The prisoners of the textile mills of New England have a new business promoter in the hand before the Mason and Dixon line, for since the labor troubles started up this way, mill owners in all sections of New England are reported to have been fairly inundated with letters from southern boards of trade, chambers of commerce and other commercial organizations.

Most of the circular letters and booklets set forth in broad and glowing terms the alleged "advantages" of the cotton belt region over New England and for manufacturing plant locations, and, in some instances, making tempting specific proposals.

Possibly our southern friends, who are so anxious to increase the prosperity of the southland, are forgetting the marvelous water power of New England and the superiority of our textile industries.

Do they realize what it would mean if our mills deserted their natural sources of power for the power obtained solely from coal?

Do the southern press agents, beating their mail coaches and calling upon northern capital to move southward, do they really believe that the great textile industries of New England are likely to abandon their present locations here for the allurement of the south? Some of our local mills have had branches in the south for the last ten years; but there have been no progress that would indicate any superiority of location over the northern mills.

FOR YOUNG AMERICA

Last summer more than 25,000 Boy Scouts attended camp for a week or more at the 42 council camps through New England. Twenty-two of these camps are located in Massachusetts. In addition to all that the movement has already accomplished to make manly boys out of the lizards and the anemic, the Boy Scout leaders are now planning to establish during the coming summer a record of achievement unsurpassed in this commendable activity.

Scouts in the vicinity of Lowell are blessed with available camps capable of serving all needs, with lakes, rivers, groves and open fields. But of course the great body of summer resort work is not found in camps solely, but in the practice of operating camps where young America can enjoy a vacation

CHINESE WAGES

Chung mong food roll—which is Chinese for "good luck." Unskilled laborers in China are receiving because their wages have risen to an average of 16 cents a day, figured in American money.

Chinese carpenters and bricklayers, sharing the general wage advance in the Orient, are "pulling down" 25 to 43 cents a day. Painters wield their brushes for a daily compensation of 25 to 33 cents. Mechanics average 75 cents to $1 a day.

These fabulous incomes are for a work-day averaging from 8 to 10 hours.

Mill foremen and stenographers in China are on the same footing financially, making from $20 to $50 a month.

You, like every other American, at some time or other have said: "In China, you can live for a few cents a day."

This saying usually is accepted without challenge. Like most of the knowledge that is taken for granted as it is passed from one person to another, after the fashion of group examination of a curiously fashioned trinket found in the streets.

In a general way, it is true that a few cents a day will sustain life in China. But it takes a lot more than it used to. Cost of living has gone up over there, same as everywhere else.

That takes the gold-plated off the Chinese wage advance.

Another factor that the Chinese workman has to reckon with is intermittent employment, due to an excess of man-power. We have a similar problem in coal, textile and other industries. But not as much as in China, where there are so many people that the birth of a girl baby generally causes sorrow, in contemplation of the population she will add during her lifetime.

The population China wages seem far away with no direct connection to our jobs in America. Far be it from such brethren.

The monies of cheap Oriental labor was realized years ago when congress passed the Chinese exclusion act. Let Chinese laborers enter America in big numbers and they would undersell American laborers—and get rich at it, living frugally under a standard of living far below ours.

In years to come, cheap Oriental labor will work long-distance a similar way. Tariffs may keep out their cheap products, but their competition will be felt when the products of American factories seek foreign markets in countries also sought by China.—N.J.A.

AN INTERESTING CASE

Fire department members in every New England city, including Lowell, are sure to follow the so-called Dolan case, recently heard in the Boston municipal court, where a fireman was found guilty of negligently operating his truck while returning from a fire and was held liable for damages to the vehicle of another person.

Judge Parmenter found that the driver of engine 25, Boston fire department, was personally liable and damages of $185 were assessed. An appeal, it is said, will be taken to the superior court, because of the far-reaching effect it will have.

Inasmuch as the fire department is not operated by the city of Boston for gain, but for the general benefit of the citizens, no action could be brought to hold the city liable in damages, so the action was brought against the engine driver.

An attempt to have the case dismissed on the ground that the driver was a public servant and acting in the interest of the citizens of Boston, failed.

The attorney for the plaintiff argued that a driver of a fire engine does not have the same right to operate his machine at a rapid rate of speed as a person driving a fire. Judge Parmenter found liability and damages were assessed as above.

The question of liability in such cases has been a much mooted one for many years, with the public generally sympathizing with the fireman in case of accidents or collisions on the public highways.

Again for the "nth" time the Boston powder mills have been blown up by lightning. Have the old-time lightning rods lost their once boasted power to turn the bolts aside and send them harmlessly into the ground?

It is sincerely hoped that the Lawrence strike will soon be settled in the interest of all concerned. Arbitration offers the best method of reaching a just settlement.

Despite all obstacles, business is improving and the era of normalcy will soon have arrived.

Run the tariff bill is debated in the senate but with little hope of changing its objectionable features.

The nation needs, perhaps, more than any other single thing, some agency to promote industrial peace.

SEEN AND HEARD

Some people's troubles are so scarce they haven't anything to talk about.

First adding machine was made in 1842; but the banks are using subtracting machines now.

Statistics show the average woman marries at 25; but nine-tenths of them are below this average.

Wonder if the 31 Princeton graduates who say they have never kissed a girl will lie about other things.

Wonder why so many Lowell people went to that firemen's convention in Lawrence.

A Thought

Providence has a wild, rough, incalculable road to its end; and it is no use to try to whitewash its huge, mixed instrumentalities, to dress up that terrific benefactor in a clean shirt and white necktie of a student in divinity.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

The Wrong Way

"You are an hour late this morning," said an employer to his negro servant. "Yes, sah; I was kicked by a mule on my way, sah." "That ought not to have detained you an hour, Sam." "Well you see, boss, it wouldn't, if he'd only kicked me in the direction, but he kicked me in other way."

Good Suggestion

The proprietor of the second-hand shop was not so tidy as he might have been. One day while standing in front of the shop, a man approached him and said, "Have you any clean shirts in your shop?" "Yes, certainly I have," answered the clothing man, anxiously.

"Lots of them, as clean as anything." "Well," said the man, moving away, "go in and put one of them on."

Today's Word

Today's word is hypothesis. It's pronounced hi-poth-oh-sis, with accent on the second syllable. It means—something not proved, but conceded for the sake of argument; a supposition provisionally adopted to account for certain other wise unexplained facts, and to serve as a guide for further investigation. It comes from a Greek root meaning "foundation" or "supposition," a combination of two words signifying "to assume" and "to put." It's used like this—"The suggestion that Mars is inhabited is regarded by more scientists as a rather interesting hypothesis, but few are yet prepared to accept it even in theory" (a "theory" which has received some verification).

Counted Thirty-two

A successful banker, having retired, thought he'd get up a thoroughbred stable. As he had no knowledge of horsemanship, he decided he would take a little expert advice. He knew a livery stable keeper, and he went to see the man. "Thompson," he said, "I am going to buy a stable of horses. Now, when they are trotted out for my inspection, how will I tell how old they are? I don't want to buy a lot of antiquated nags, you know." The liveryman said it was by their teeth that horses' ages were told. He intended to go into the matter a little further, for the millionaire, satisfied, hurried off. The next day a fine coach horse was submitted to him by a dealer.

"How much do you want for this animal?" he asked. "About $1200," the dealer answered.

"Open the horse's mouth and studied its teeth with slow care. Then, wiping his hands, he laughed heartily. "Take it away," he said. "It's 32 years old."

The Little People

A dreary place would be this earth. Were there no little people in it. The song of life would lose its melody. Were there no children to begin it.

No little forms, like buds to grow. And make the admiring heart surrender.

No little hands on breast and brow. To keep the thrilling love chords tender.

The sterner souls would grow more stern. Unfeeling nature more inhuman. And man would be less than woman.

Life's song indeed would lose its charm. Were there no babies to begin it; A dreary place this world would be. Were there no little people in it. Supposed to be by Whitlir.

RUM FLEET CAPTURED

Three Boats, 13 Men and 20,000 Bottles of Whiskey Seized at New York

NEW YORK, June 25.—Twenty seized boats of whiskey were taken by customs officers who captured three speeding motorboats which attempted to run their rum cargoes up the East river before dawn yesterday, under cover of a furious squall that threatened their destruction with every burst of wind. Thirteen men aboard the little craft were arrested.

The vessels are fishermen and came here from Boston, the "commodore" of the fleet admitting the federal officers said, that they had taken aboard their liquor cargoes from a 76-foot rum runner that was at anchor several miles off Sandy Hook. The boats are the sloops Peter Metzger and Stella and the gasoline boat C-38.

Det. Post-Surveyor William S. Dandridge and a crew of nine aboard a department launch "spotted" the fleet in the vivid glare of a lightning flash in the Narrows. While the three boats, inoffensive enough as fishing boats, the federal officers, taking nothing for granted, kept them at a distance hidden by the fury of the storm. When the fishing craft failed to put in at the Fulton street fish market wharf, the officers' suspicions were aroused, full speed ahead was rung and their launch overtook the flotilla.

Det. Post-Surveyor boarded the "flagship," the C-38, and questioned Alfred Anderson of Boston, who, they said, admitted he was in command of the fleet. Unsatisfied with his answers, the officers went into the hold and claim to have found it filled with whiskey. Insulted by the other two vessels, they fired at them, the alleged, declaring they found 20,000 bottles of the contraband in all.

The prisoners gave their names as Joseph Parmitino, Nicola Huggler, Joseph Frank, Peter Sorachi, John Costa and John Sina all of Boston; Joseph Ventura and Joseph Bassanti, both of Lawrence, Mass.; George Murray of Brooklyn and Thomas Murphy and Joseph Coffey of New York.

United States Commissioner Hitchcock later fixed Anderson's bail at $10,000, that of Murphy, captain of the Metzger at $3000. Bail for the others was set at $1000. All were bailed by a surety concern for appearance in court today.

BIG NARCOTIC RAID MADE IN BOSTON

BOSTON, June 25.—As a result of raids in the Chinatown district early yesterday morning, participated in by members of Captain Reardon's narcotics squad and federal agents, 12 Chinese were arrested and booked at the Lagrange street station, to be held for further action by the federal authorities.

While it was denied last night at the station house that any of the circumstances regarding the raids and arrests were known to the officers on duty there, it is reported that in the series of raids a large quantity of narcotic drugs were seized.

Dr. Irwin Rath, head of the government narcotic agents in this city, is said to have headed the squad and took charge of the proceedings.

On his orders, the police claim, the prisoners were allowed to go on bail of $100 each for their appearance in the federal court this morning. The police say no charge was lodged against any of the 12 on the books of the station house.

The men arrested said they were June Quoy, 34, of 11 Oxford place; Wong Man, 35, of Manchester, N. H.; Yoo Kim, 34, of 14 Tyler street; E. Moy, 48, of Worcester street; Ah Boy, 25, of 12 Tyler street; Chin Kong, 31, of 52 1/2 Kneeland street; Charlie Gee, 42, of 8 Oxford place; Joe See, 19, of 8 Oxford place; Jim Lee, 27, of 8 Oxford place; Charlie Lee, 45, of 15 Tyler street; Lee Y. Kong, 55, and Lee Kim, 42, both 50 Beach street.

It is claimed that some of the places raided have been under surveillance by the police for some time and that the descent of the federal and police authorities Sunday morning, with the resulting cleanup, was the outcome of carefully laid plans.

MILL MEN NOW ON KNEES

Lawrence Priest Urges Strikers to Remain Firm in Their Demands

LAWRENCE, June 25.—Rev. Father John J. Gliday, pastor of St. Patrick's church, and a member of the citizen's committee of seven ministers which was appointed to try to bring about a settlement of the textile strike, told his parishioners in the course of a sermon yesterday, that the strikers should remain firm in their demands. He said that the mill men are now on their knees to the workers. Discussing wages he declared that the pay that some girls receive is an injustice and he asked how the girl of the present day could remain good on unjustly low wages.

Father Gliday said he was speaking his personal opinion, not that of the citizen's committee.

MEXICAN PETROLEUM SOARS TO NEW HEIGHTS

NEW YORK, June 26.—Regardless of the investigation under way by stock exchange authorities, Mexican Petroleum soared to new heights at the opening of today's stock market. The first transaction of 100 shares at 18 1/2 showed a gain of 3 1/2 points over last week's final price. The stock rose with the first 20 minutes to 19 1/2 or 8 1/2 points above its previous high record of the year.

The shares of the Pan-American Petroleum company, which controls Mexican Petroleum, also added substantially to their recent gains. The "A" issue rose four points soon after the opening with a gain of three points for the "B" shares.

Other popular stocks opened the week with moderate advances, but interest in the general list was overshadowed by the remarkable performance of the Mexican group.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem THE OPTIMIST

I hate to leave a party
When the fun is gay and hearty,
Though it's time for me to blow,
For I love to get full measure
Of enjoyment and of pleasure
And I cannot bear to go;
And I might find out, thereafter,
That I'd missed a lot of laughter,
As the later moments passed,
So I never take such chances
With the dinners or the dances
But I stay until the last!

When a party seems a flivver
And its bleakness makes me shiver,
Still I somehow hate to quit;
Though in deepest gloom I'm groping,
None the less I keep on hoping
That things may chirk up a bit;
Though the party is a glum thing,
Someone might perhaps start something
Which would make the evening gay—
I'd be mighty sore, dog-gone it
If I hadn't been in on it,
So of course I always stay!

LOWELL MILL WAS BITTEN BY MAD DOG

The Massachusetts mills baseball team defeated the Springfield team in a game played Saturday by a score of 12 to 5. Peterson, who pitched for the local aggregation, was in fine form, retiring 11 of the down river boys on strikes. The Springfield team is third in the Lawrence Twilight league standing and is the only team to defeat the K. of C. team this season.

How to Play Baseball

Batters Often Tip You on What They Intend to Do, Says Gardner

LARRY GARDNER

By LARRY GARDNER

Veteran Star of the Cleveland Indians in playing third base there are many points which the major leaguer considers most important, yet they mean little or nothing to the amateur. It is not well to try to absorb in one day all there is to know about a position on the infield.

It is much better to learn the elementary essentials and to grasp the inside stuff as the player advances in his profession. My knowledge of playing third base has been acquired through observation and advice scattered over years of service.

I consider a study of the batters of utmost importance. It will enable the third baseman in a great many cases, to determine whether the batsman intends to bunt or hit.

Give Self Away

This cannot be done with all batters. But in a great many cases the batter has some peculiar movement or motion with which he gives away his intentions.

Another important thing is to learn as soon as possible the field to which a batter is most likely to hit. This

SHORT SHIP HORSES AT CHERRY PARK

This week will see the New England half-mile track horses in full cry at charming little Cherry park, between the hills, a dozen miles west of Hartford, where four days of excellent sport is promised.

The trotters and pacers which raced at Medford and Woonsocket will be met up with horses from the large stables of Will Crozier, State Post, Herman Tyson, Aubrey Roday, Fred Hyde and Billy Lease. This means helps greatly in a third baseman's ability to cover ground.

The fact that a third baseman knows what each pitched ball is going to be also aids him in covering more ground.

An infielder should be ready at all times to help a teammate on plays. Show me a player who makes plenty of errors and I will show you a player who is always giving his best efforts—which in the long run will get results.

Go After 'Em

"I consider it of great importance for a third baseman to try for every ball hit in his territory, regardless of whether he makes an error or not. Show me a player who makes plenty of errors and I will show you a player who is always giving his best efforts—which in the long run will get results."

Last, but not least, I feel that every infielder should work to perfect his throw to first base. Hard work and constant practice will accomplish wonders in this respect.

A player cannot get too much practice in baseball like everything else it makes perfect.

larger fields and keener competition to delight the public.

Cherry park has from its first day in the Short Ship chain had splendid racing, but has not drawn large crowds because of its location away from steam and trolley lines. Motor car owners are learning the way out from Hartford, and with the fine opportunity, a satisfactory gate is looked for this week.

Of the Combination winners which started at Woonsocket, seven of them did not repeat, and there is much interest as to how the Rhode Island summary toppers and Iskander, (who last week, will face against the troop of newcomers at Avon.

South Common Stadium Track and Field Records Broken at C.Y.M.L. Meet Saturday Afternoon

Three track and field records for the South common stadium were broken in competition, and two others in exhibition, Saturday afternoon at the second annual track meet of the Catholic Young Men's League, a meet which in every respect surpassed any previous event of its kind in the annals of Lowell athletics. Fourteen events, each of them closely contested, were run off in pleasing sequence, and the thousands of spectators who occupied every inch of space about the track and on the hillside and bleachers were roused to enthusiasm in every contest.

Patrolman "Mike" Ryne, Ed. Twohey and Jimmie Andromedas were the record breakers. Ryne, wearing the lycium colors, gave the shot a terrific heave for the distance of 46 feet 2 inches, beating Andromedas' record of 46 feet 2 inches, made last year. The big fellow made the new distance twice, once in the trials by which all but three contestants were eliminated and again in the second put of the day, beating Flynn of the Belmonts by three seconds. This was one of the very close events of the afternoon.

Ed. Twohey, also a lycium representative, cut the quarter mile record by three seconds. This was one of the very close events of the afternoon. The previous record was 55 seconds.

Andromedas, athletic leader of the Greek-American Athletic club, established a new record in the discus throw, hurling the disc 124 feet, 7 inches. The previous record, held by himself, was 120 feet, 7 inches. Apostolides, a representative of the same club, also surpassed the previous record, throwing the missile 122 feet, 10 inches.

Every woman in New England should read the Household Pages in the Boston Daily and Sunday Globe.

the vault was the performance of Omer Dion, a pupil of Darling's, who won second place, then is a mere school boy, wearing knee britches.

Scoring the places in the various events, as 5, 3 and 1, the usual method of computation for first, second and third, respectively, the lycium boys carried off the honors with 30 points, 3 firsts, 3 seconds and 6 thirds. The Greek-American club, a high jumper, won 19 points, 3 firsts and 3 seconds, a total of 19. The Belmont A.C. and B.A.A. tied for third place, with 15 points each. The other 13 points, third, to contestants who were unaffiliated with any organization.

Flinders Led Field

Flinders led the field of individual performers, winning handsily in the half-mile, mile and 2-mile runs for a total of 15. Andromedas and Darling were even for second, the former winning the discus throw, running broad jump and securing second in the shot put, while Darling won the high jump, pole vault and was second in the hurdles. Twohey followed with a first in each of the dash events and a third in the shot put. Ryne and Sherburne were tied for position, Ryne winning a first in the shot put and a third in the discus throw, and Sherburne taking second place in the mile and half mile.

The list of events and their winners follows: Track events: 100 yard dash for schoolboys: Trials: first heat, Leo Biddy, first; Philip McGowan, second; second heat, Antonio Milot, first; Sam Cantara, second. Finals: Leo Biddy, first; Philip McGowan, second; Antonio Milot, third. Time, 12 seconds.

One mile run: Flinders, B.A.A., first; Sherburne, C.Y.M.L., second; Sheehan, unattached, third. Time, 4 minutes, 33 seconds.

440 yard (quarter-mile) dash: Twohey, C.Y.M.L., first; Flynn, Belmont A.C., second; P. Haley, St. John's, third. Time, 52 seconds. (New record.)

Five mile race: Flinders, B.A.A., first; t. Souza, C.Y.M.L., second; Ford, unattached, third. Time, 23 minutes, 4-5 seconds.

Field Events

Running high jump: Darling, unattached, first; Andromedas, C.Y.M.L., second; MacAdams, C.Y.M.L., third. Height, 5 feet, 6 inches. (Darling's 5 feet, new exhibition record.)

Shot put: Ryne, C.Y.M.L., first; Andromedas, C.Y.M.L., second; Darling, C.Y.M.L., third. Distance, 46 feet, 2 inches. (New record.)

Running broad jump: Andromedas, C.Y.M.L., first; Belmont A.C., second; Daley, Belmont A.C., third. Distance, 19 feet, 1 inch.

Discus throw: Andromedas, C.Y.M.L., first; Apostolides, C.Y.M.L., second; Ryne, C.Y.M.L., third. Distance, 124 feet, 7 inches. (New record.)

Pole vault: Darling, unattached, first; Dion, unattached, second; Crane, C.Y.M.L., third. Height, 8 feet, 6 inches. (Darling, 11 feet, new exhibition record.)

The closing event of the meet was a relay race between the C.Y.M.L. and the Belmont A.C. won by the latter. The C.Y.M.L. runners were Bradford, Cunningham, MacAdams and Twohey, while their opponents were Sweeney, Sheehan, Daley and Dean. Sweeney took the lead at the gun, and rounded the track with an ever-growing lead.

Bradford, on the second lap, was slightly ahead of the pack and was less than quarter of a lap behind at the finish.

Hon. Perry D. Thompson appeared in the capacity of referee, and the other officials of the meet were as follows: Starter, Michael Haggerty; Referee, Frederick F. Flynn; Judges, Martin Conley, Thomas J. Fitzgerald, John J. Donovon, James J. Kelly, Patrick Millane, Frank P. McNeil, clerks of course, Henry E. Sullivan, Harold J. Sullivan, Arthur J. Sullivan, announcer, John J. Mahoney.

The C.Y.M.L. athletic committee, under supervision of the meet was conducted as follows: Frank P. Flynn, chairman; D. Joseph Cunningham, secretary; Martin Glavin, James Heslop, John J. Kelly, Henry McCullough, Frank J. Sullivan, Fred W. Bright, John Cunningham, Henry Croston, William Kelly, John McGuinness, John Molloy, John Randall and Clayton Lockwood.

BRITTON VS. LEONARD

Welterweight and Lightweight Champions Meet at New York Tonight

NEW YORK, June 26.—Jack Britton, veteran welterweight boxing champion and Benny Leonard, lightweight titleholder, will meet tonight in a 15-round decision contest at the New York Velodrome.

Britton's welterweight title will be at stake, but, as Leonard will enter the ring several pounds over the lightweight limit, his championship will not be risked.

The lightweight king is 10 years younger than Britton, and the latter has two inches advantage in height, but otherwise there is little difference in physical measurements.

The pair have met twice before in two no-decision contests, one in New York in 1917 over the 10-round route, and the other a six-round go at Philadelphia in 1919.

Britton's manager, Marcotte, presented a strong lineup in anticipation of a hard game as the New Hampshire team came here highly recommended as to baseball ability.

The scoring started in the first inning, when Britton singled to left, while Leonard hit a home run, but the latter was out at first base.

The St. Mary's tied the score in the second when Leonard singled to left, while Britton hit a home run, but the latter was out at first base.

Third Straight Victory Over Pirates Moves Reds up the Ladder

White Sox Gain Firmer Hold on Fourth Place—Giants Win in the Ninth

NEW YORK, June 26.—The New York Giants, who have developed a habit of grabbing eleventh hour victories, snatched another brand from the burning yesterday. The Veterans Davey Robertson, pinch-hitting for Ryan, dealt the blow that brought across the winning run in the ninth, after the Braves had tied the score and tied the count with three runs in the previous inning. The final score was 4 to 3.

Johnny Couch pitched Cincinnati to its third straight victory over Pittsburgh and the Reds climbed over both Chicago and the Pirates to occupy fourth place. The St. Louis Cardinals lambasted the Cubs, 5 to 1, and the Boston Braves, 5 to 0, and evened the four game series.

Chicago gained a firmer hold on fourth place on the part of the league by winning its fourth straight from Cleveland, 4-3 in 10 innings. Tris Speaker was put out of the game for presenting a decision by Umpire Ed Walsh.

Zachary outpitched Bryan Harris of the Athletics and Washington, won 2 to 1.

Ken Williams, St. Louis slugger, staged a few spectacular fielding tricks instead of pulling his home run act, while the Braves, with Dixie Davis in form, blanked the Detroit Tigers, 5-0, and evened the four game series.

PLANS AN IRISH OPERA

Humphrey O'Sullivan Interested in Movement Headed by Egan, Irish Tenor

Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan has been interested in a movement set in motion in New York by Thomas Egan, the Irish tenor, and a number of his friends, the aim being to bring out an Irish opera by Irish singers.

The New York World, in a recent issue, had an article in reference to the movement from which the following is taken.

"We aim at forming a permanent national Irish opera," said Thomas Egan, Irish tenor, a director in the Irish Music Fountain, the headquarters of which is at No. 500 Fifth avenue. At present Mr. Egan is devoting his afternoons to interviewing artists, students and others of Irish ancestry at his studio, No. 40 West 6th street.

If the British national opera could be so successful, he remarked, why not an Irish opera? Also, if Italian operas could be translated into all sorts of languages, including Russian, why not into Gaelic?

O'Brien Butler, who wrote the first original opera ("Muirghre") in Gaelic, lost his life on the Lusitania.

Reached Before the War

"The idea originated before the war," said Mr. Egan. "I was singing at Drury Lane, London, at the time, the only Irish tenor in a company of Italians. Friends began asking: why shouldn't an Irish opera company be formed entirely of Irish singers to render Italian operas in Gaelic? The question is now being gradually answered.

"We could not make progress while the war was on, nor while there were troubles in Ireland, but I think things are quieter now and that we shall be able to advance. Even so, we do not begin till 1923, when the concert tour opens at the Theatre Royal, Dublin, in our native city.

"We want to discover and develop unusual musical talent among members of the Irish race wherever we find it, and it is my duty to seek it in New York—a task by no means easy. We do not expect to find the talent in Ireland, because as soon as an Irishman shows any signs of brilliance he leaves his own country and goes to another to win his way there."

In English, Too

"We shall not confine ourselves to opera in Gaelic. Other works in English will be included. One of these will be "Countess Kathleen," the text and libretto of which are by William Butler Yeats and the music by Lennox, who was the composer of "The Bohemian Girl," by Balfe, and "The Killarney," by Bennett. We must lighten the program, Gaelic is understood by the children who learn it in school, but the language is so difficult that their fathers and mothers, if they have not acquired it in childhood, find it beyond them in later years.

"We are doing everything possible to foster Irish music. We are collecting and collecting old songs and airs, the existence of which has hitherto been unsuspected. I am hearing now for an opera by O'Dwyer that has been lost. When we have collected these old strains we will publish them. I have twenty of them myself, and I intend to introduce them into my singing. People's eyes will open when they realize what songs there are that belong to Ireland. We have to show the Irish people themselves what wonderful music they possess."

Among the other aims of the Irish Music Foundation are the following:

"To urge that literary works on Irish music be entombed in all public libraries of the world.

"To promote a worldwide educational campaign to secure recognition for the classic music of Ireland, to maintain its history, and to stimulate future progress and interest.

"To publish and promote the sale of a complete history of Irish music from ancient times to present day.

"To publish and circulate periodical issues of a journal of Irish music."

Mr. Egan said that the people, who had taken an active share in organizing relief for sufferers in Ireland were the kind who took an interest in this musical movement and that it was open to all who were willing to help in a spirit free from faction and from political and religious bias.

OBSERVED THEIR SILVER WEDDING

About fifty couples, relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Desmarais, gathered at their home, 53 Fisher street, Saturday evening, to offer their congratulations and best wishes on the occasion of their silver wedding. Attending the festivities were guests from this city, Lawrence, Andover and Derby, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmarais were made the recipients of numerous gifts of silver and included among them was a purse containing one hundred silver dollars, which was presented by a brother of the "groom." Mr. Joseph Desmarais of Derby, N. H., in behalf of those present, Mrs. Desmarais, Misses Antoinette and Bernadette, Mrs. Mary Laura Decelle, Wilfred Martin, Louis Matte, Mrs. Blanche Decelle, Alexandre Bourque, Albert Desmarais, Hector Jodoin and E. J. Laroche. A buffet luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Desmarais, the latter formerly Miss Cecile Demers, were married at St. Anne's church, Lawrence, June 25, 1897, and immediately after their marriage they came to Lowell and have lived there ever since. For a number of years, Mr. Desmarais was in the plumbing and steam fitting business and later he conducted a hardware and paint store in Lakeview avenue. Among the out-of-town guests in attendance were William Morin, and Mrs. Antoine Morin, and Mrs. Louis Vallancourt, Mr. and Mrs. Octave Champagne, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Philbert Desmarais, all of Lawrence; Mrs. N. J. Crowley of Andover, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Desmarais and Henry Desmarais of Derby, N. H. The wedding was served by Hector Desmarais and Charles Cote. Miss Sybil Desmarais had general charge of the arrangements.

LOWELL'S POPULATION INVESTIGATE ATTEMPT TO

Interesting Figures Announced by the Department of Commerce

(Special to The Sun)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26.—The department of commerce announces that, according to the census of 1920, the population of Lowell, 112,759, comprised 55,553 males 15 years of age and over, of whom 21,355, or 38.7 per cent, were married, and 42,244 females above the same age limit, of whom 21,353, or 50.6 per cent, were married. There were in the population of Lowell on the census date, 2184 widowers, 4779 widows, 118 divorced men and 163 divorced women. The population 45 years of age and over included 112 single men and 2355 single women.

As to widows there are 39 between the ages of 15 to 24, 341 between 25 and 44 years, and 3397 aged 45 or over. It is remarkable that there are 2415 more widows than widowers. This would indicate that the women outlive the men.

The women over fifteen years of age number 3629 more than the men over fifteen.

LAWRENCE UNION REJECTS OFFER

LAWRENCE, June 26.—The wool sorters of the Pacific Mills, affiliated with the United Textile Workers of America, and the loomfixers who are affiliated with the American Federation of Textile Operatives, voted unanimously yesterday to reject the offer made by the mills last Friday and to continue the strike. The loomfixers also voted to have no dealings with the mill, either regarding wages or compromise until the notices concerning the wage cut were taken down from the gates.

All the unions of the Pacific Mills operatives have now voted to reject the mill's offer to its employees to return to work at the 20 per cent wage cut, announced three months ago with promise of a wage readjustment in the fall if conditions should warrant it.

All members of the police department have been ordered to report for duty early tomorrow to assist in patrolling the mill section. No trouble is expected, but every precaution will be taken. The largest picket line of the strike is expected to turn out in the vicinity of the Pacific Mills.

BIG INCREASE IN EMPLOYMENT HERE

According to the United States Department of Labor Industrial Review for June, just received at the chamber of commerce, Lowell has a greater increase in employment than any city in the country other than Memphis, Tenn. The increase amounts to 14.9 per cent, and the total number of employees added in the monthly period is 1458. The bulletin states that the textile situation shows some improvement, but most of the increase was caused by the resumption of the leather industry, resulting from the settlement of a labor difficulty at a local tannery and leather plant. The report also states that most of the textile industries are running on a part-time basis, with one manufacturing company in receipt of orders which have put it on practically a full-time schedule.

Radio

Latest Invention by Armstrong Amplifies Signals a Million Times

EDWIN H. ARMSTRONG AND HIS SUPER-REGENERATIVE CIRCUIT.

BY PAUL F. GODLEY.
America's Greatest Radio Authority. Present day radio hinges entirely around contributions which Edwin Howard Armstrong, formerly in charge of army radio in France, has made toward the advancement of the wireless art.
He discovered and charted the trajectory of the electron within the vacuum tube so dear to the hearts of all radio fans.
He was the first to make the little tube perform in the changing of direct current into high frequency oscillations used in wireless, thus providing a simpler means of producing an electric wave suitable for radio telephony.
It was the first to demonstrate how this vacuum tube could be relied upon to amplify an extremely weak signal over and over again.
With the final result that it would become very strong, thus making possible the regenerative receiver now used in so many homes.
Super-regeneration.
Finally, he has taken this form of receiver and improved it so that it can now give amplifications of a million times and upward.
Instead of one or two hundred times!
A short way to describe the super-regenerative circuit, says Armstrong, "is that one vacuum tube is made to do the work formerly done by three. It has been known for several years that the limit of amplification is reached when the negative charge in the tube approaches the positive.

"In experimenting I found that it was possible to increase the negative charge temporarily, for about 1-20,000 of a second, above the positive and still keep the average down. It is this possibility of increase which permits the enormous amplification and enables me to eliminate two tubes from the circuit."

No Outside Aerials

Of what benefit is all this to the radio amateur?
"An outfit equipped with a super-regenerative circuit," Armstrong goes on to explain, "is so sensitive that outside aerials are unnecessary."
"Receiving sets without outside aerials have been possible for some time, but they have been so expensive that most amateurs have not been able to afford them. With this improved circuit, inside sets can be manufactured at the same price as those requiring cumbersome outside aerials."
"The other practical result will be the ability to detect wave lengths under 200 meters with ordinary amateur sets. In the past short wave lengths were indistinguishable for small sets."
Three tubes used with the circuit will give sufficient signal to fill a lecture hall.
